

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

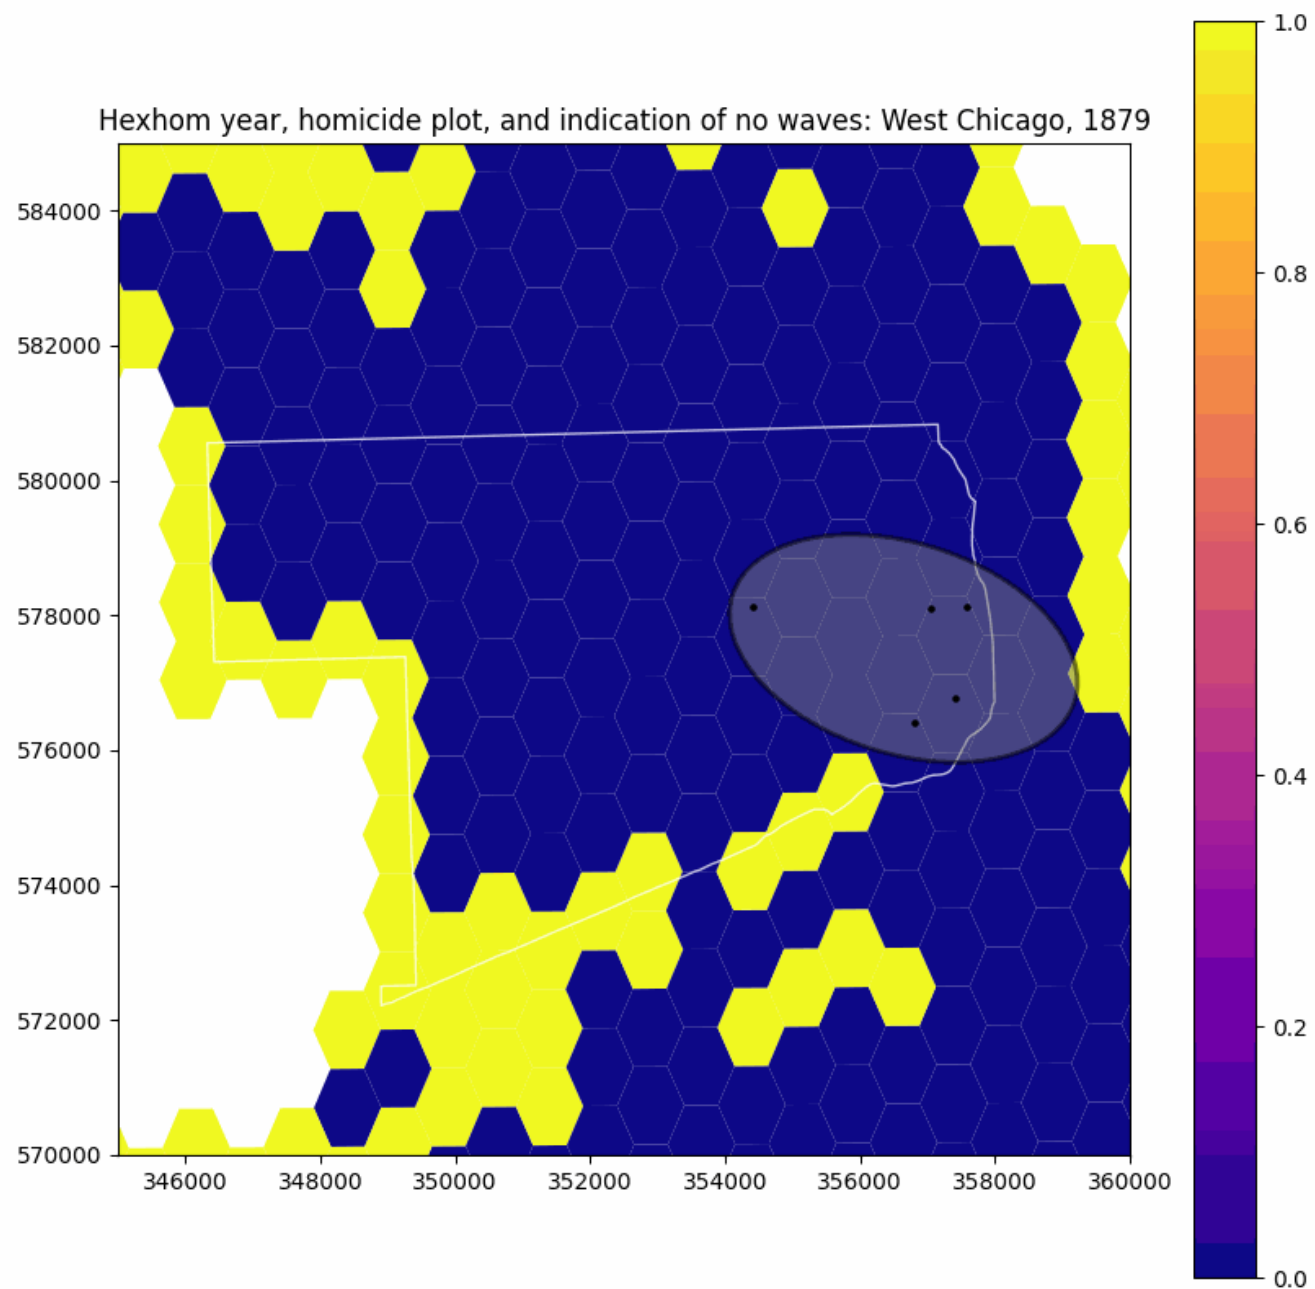

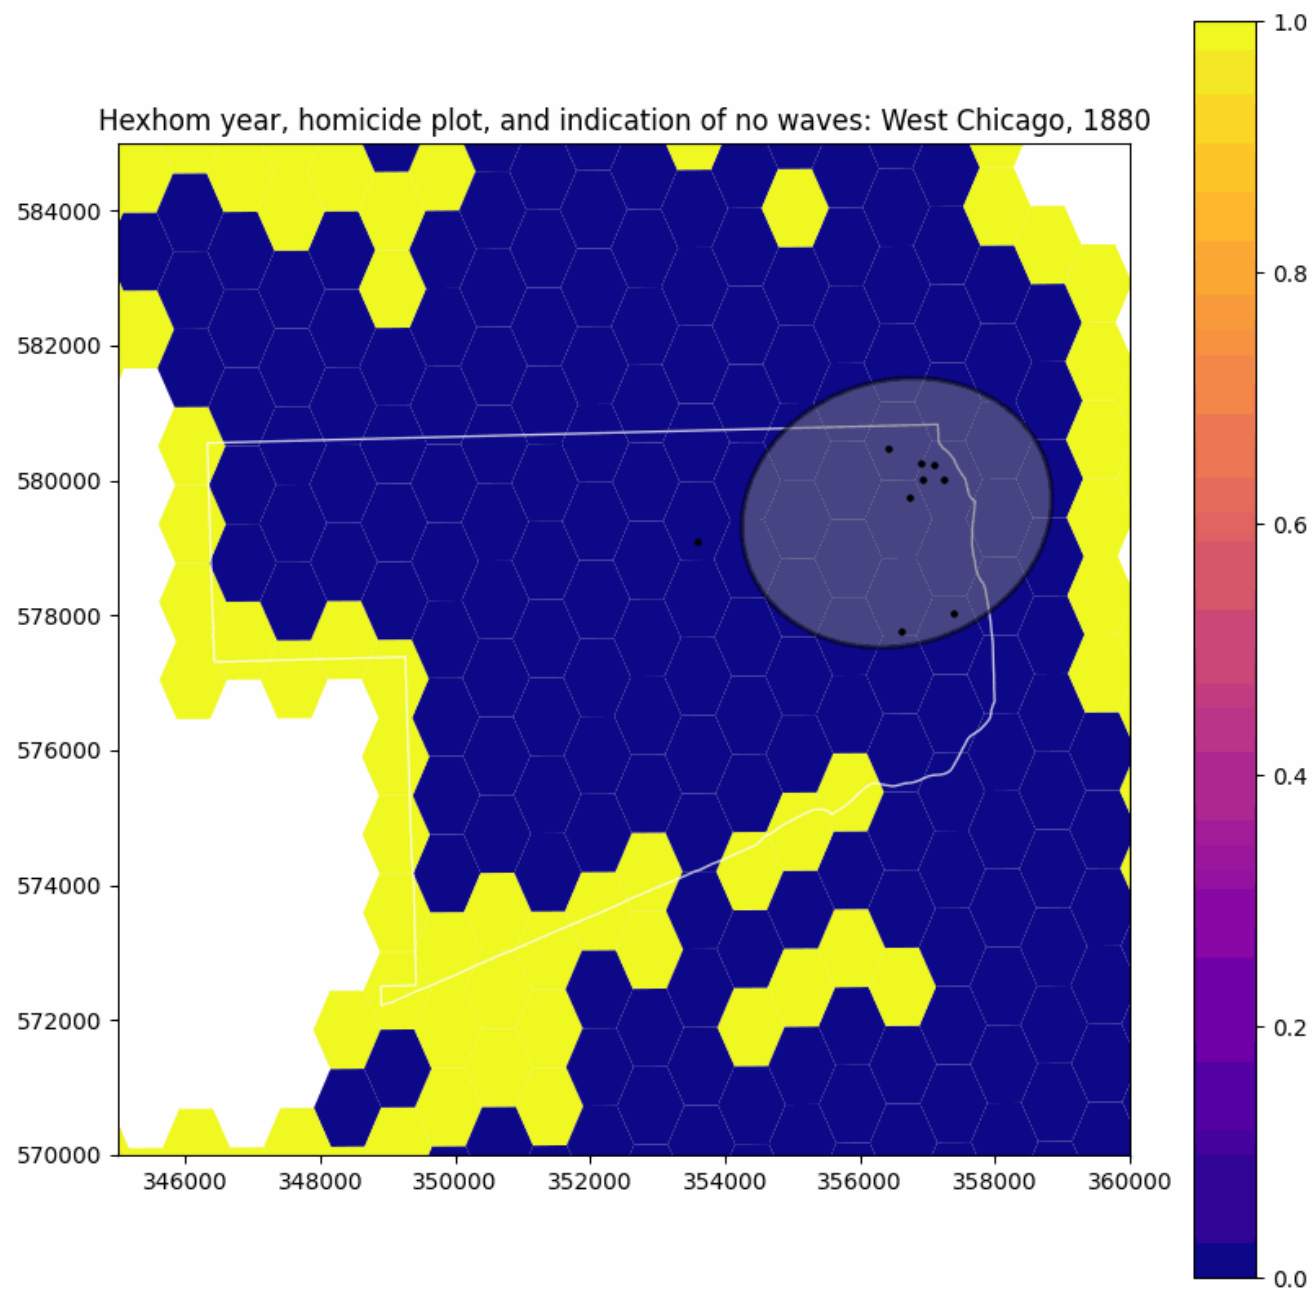

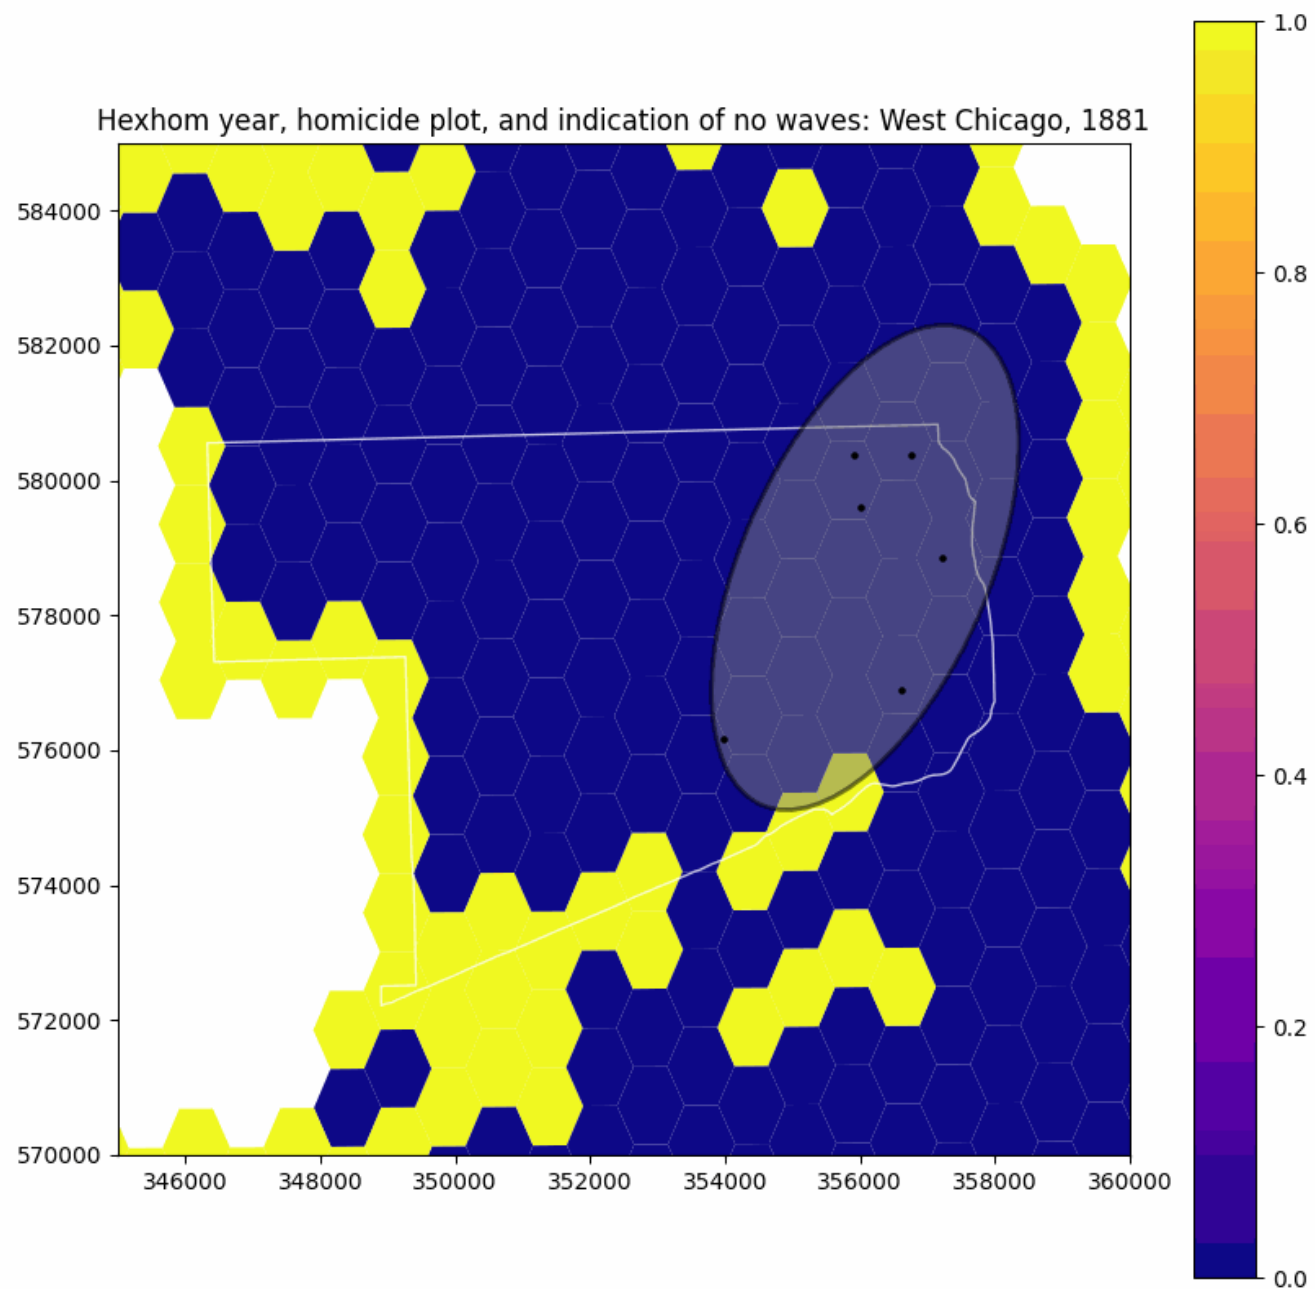

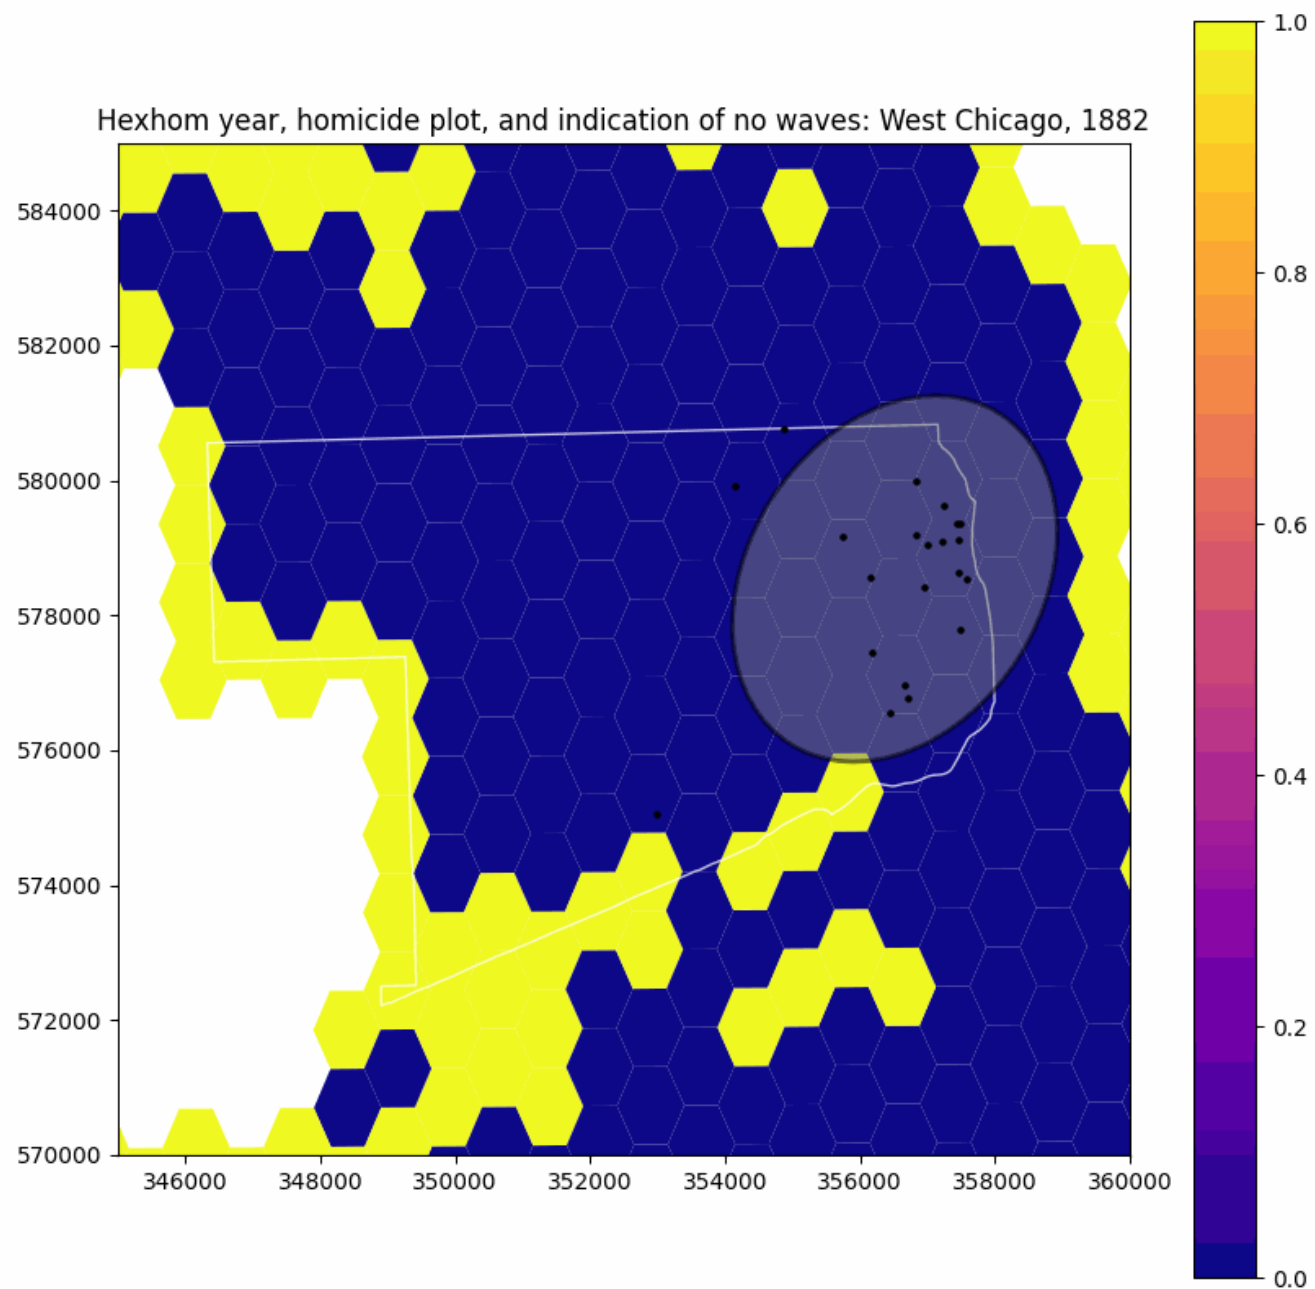

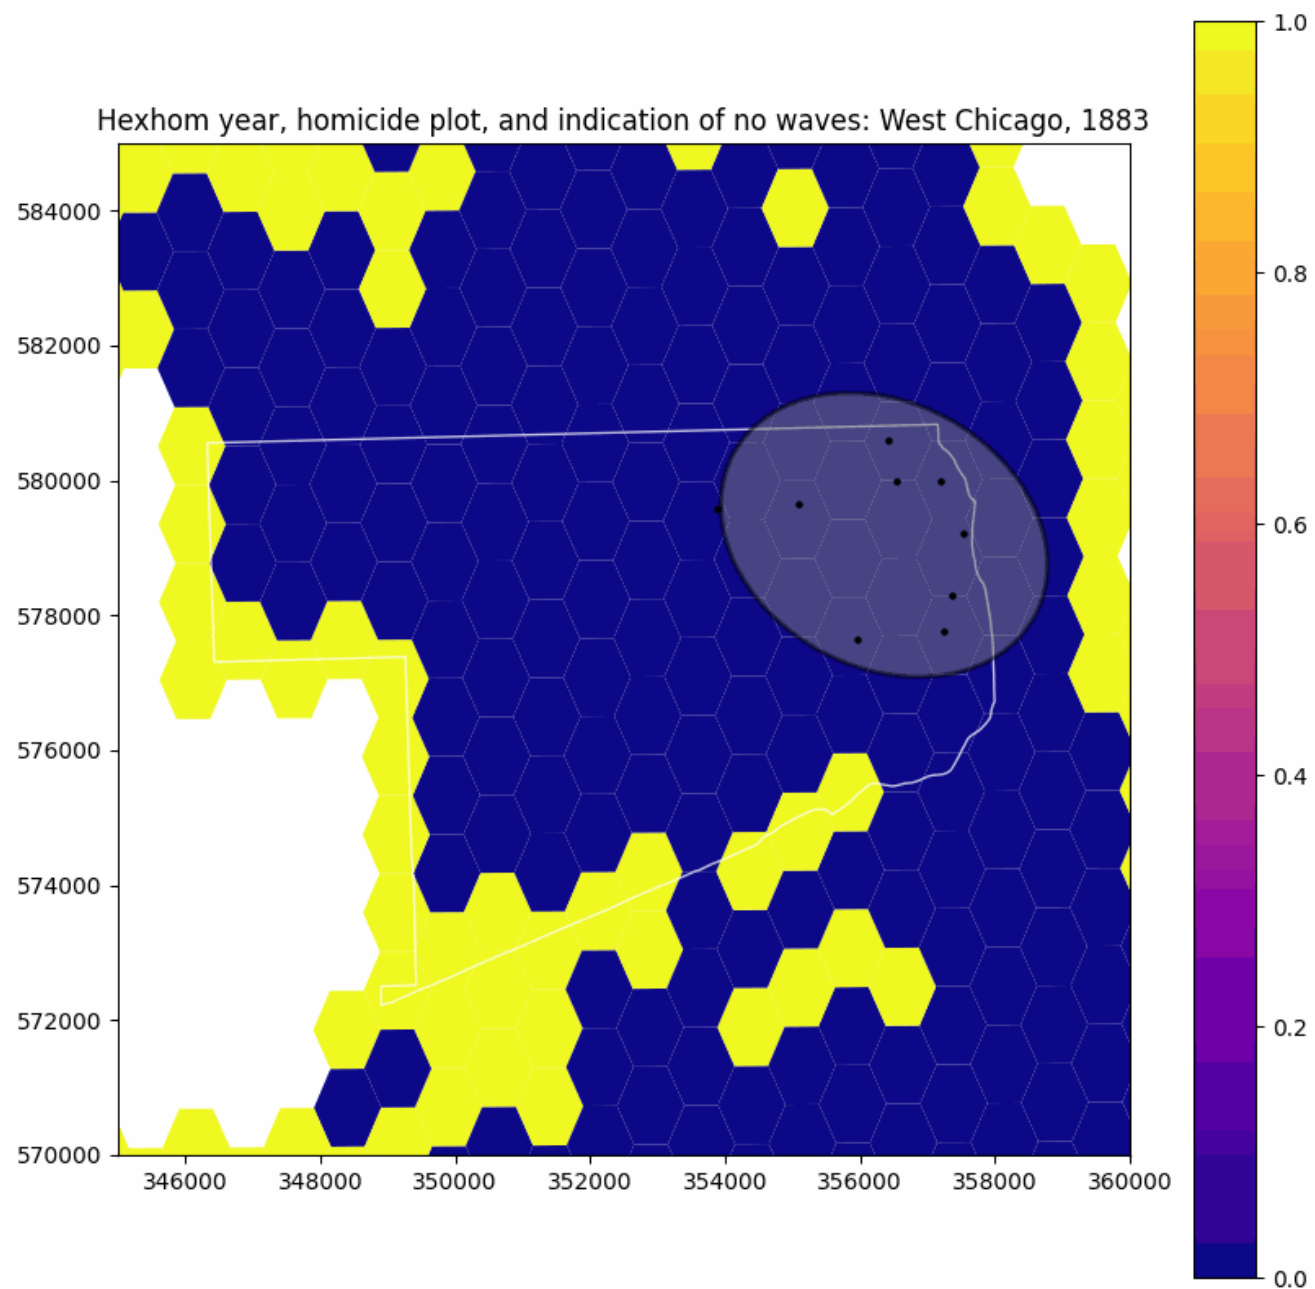

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

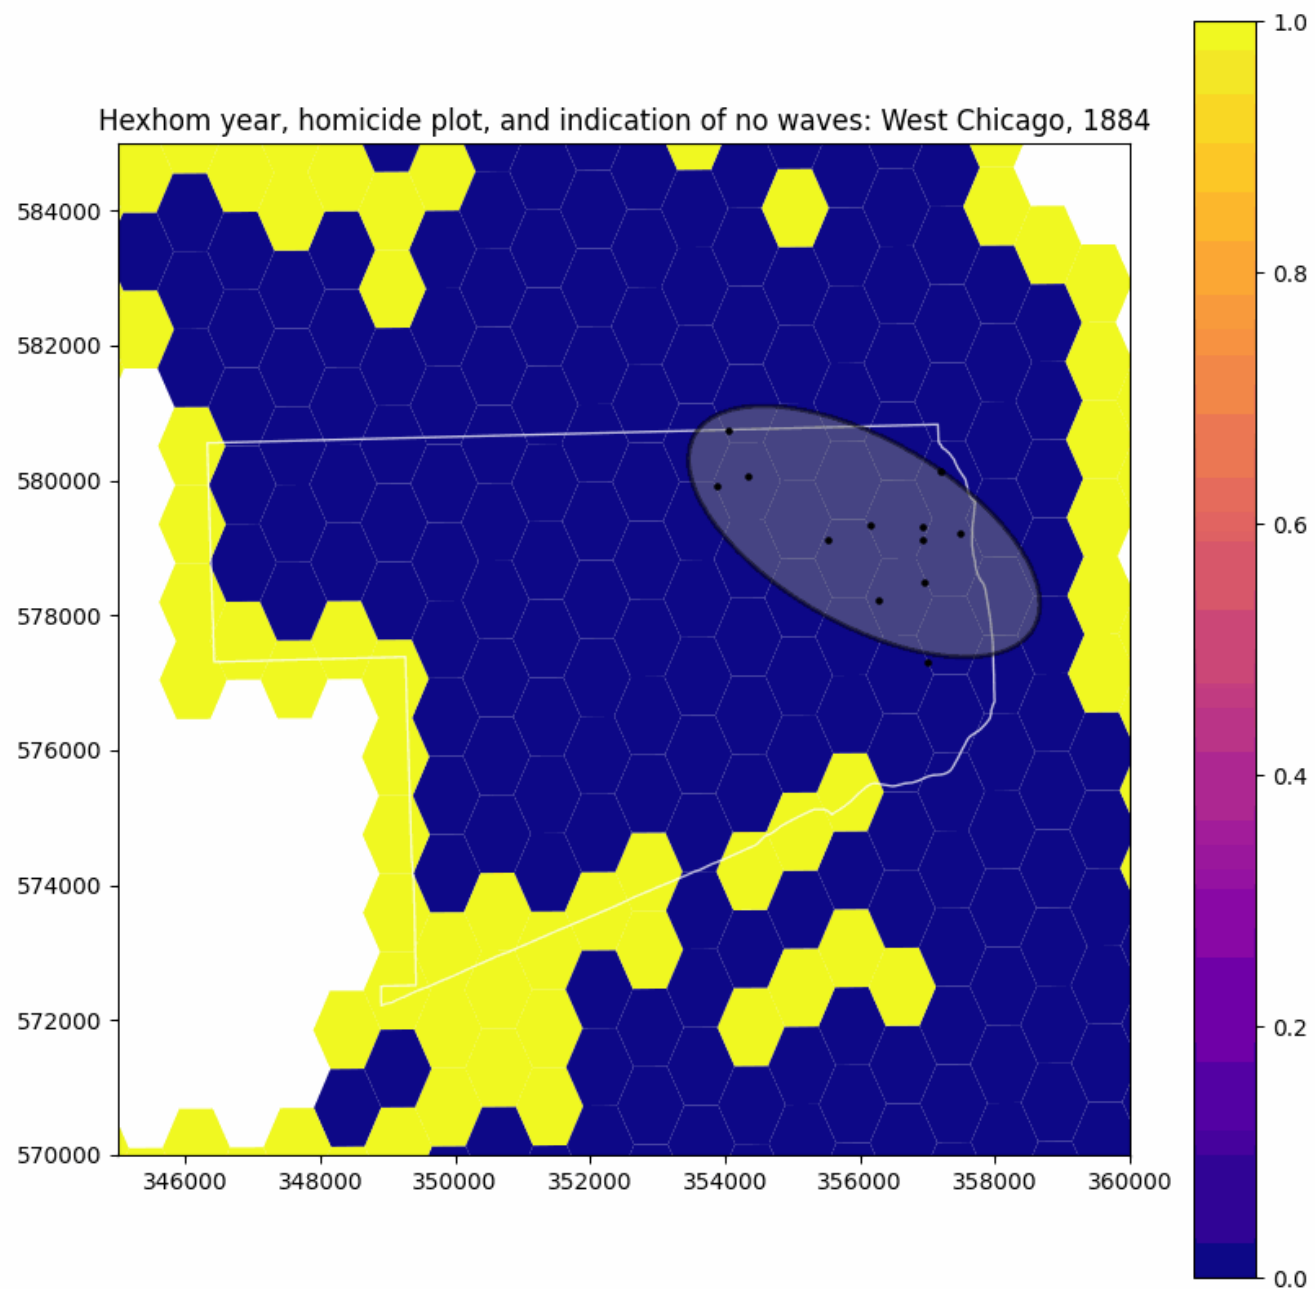

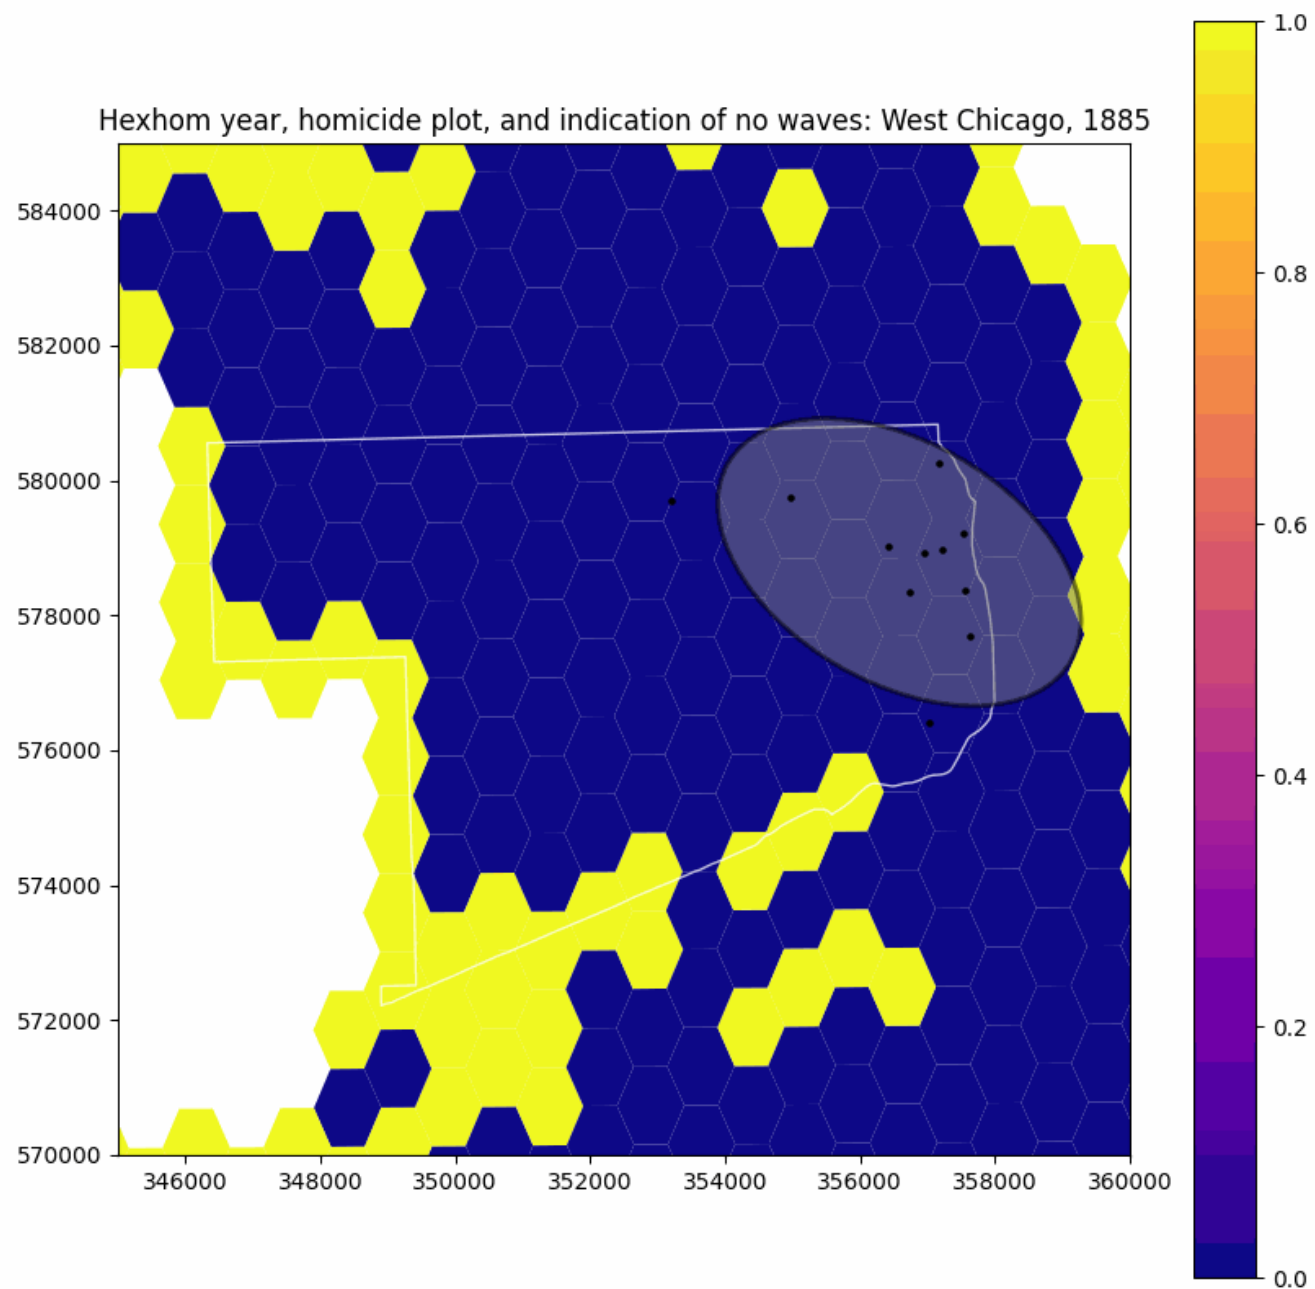

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

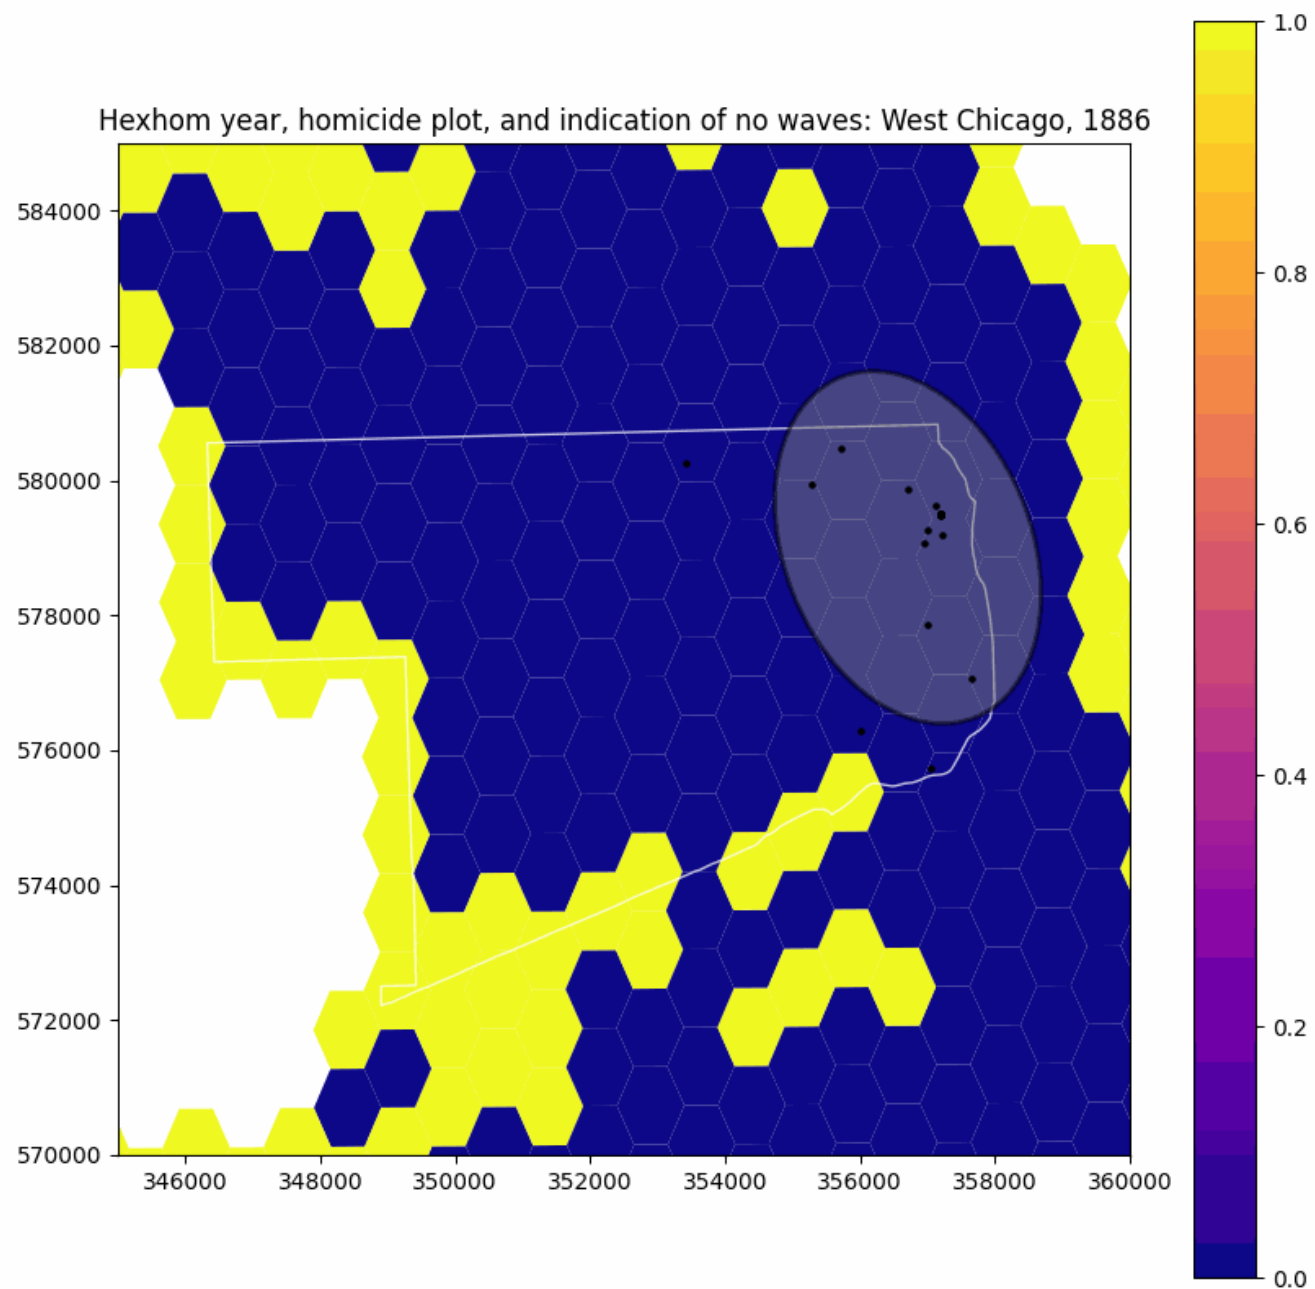

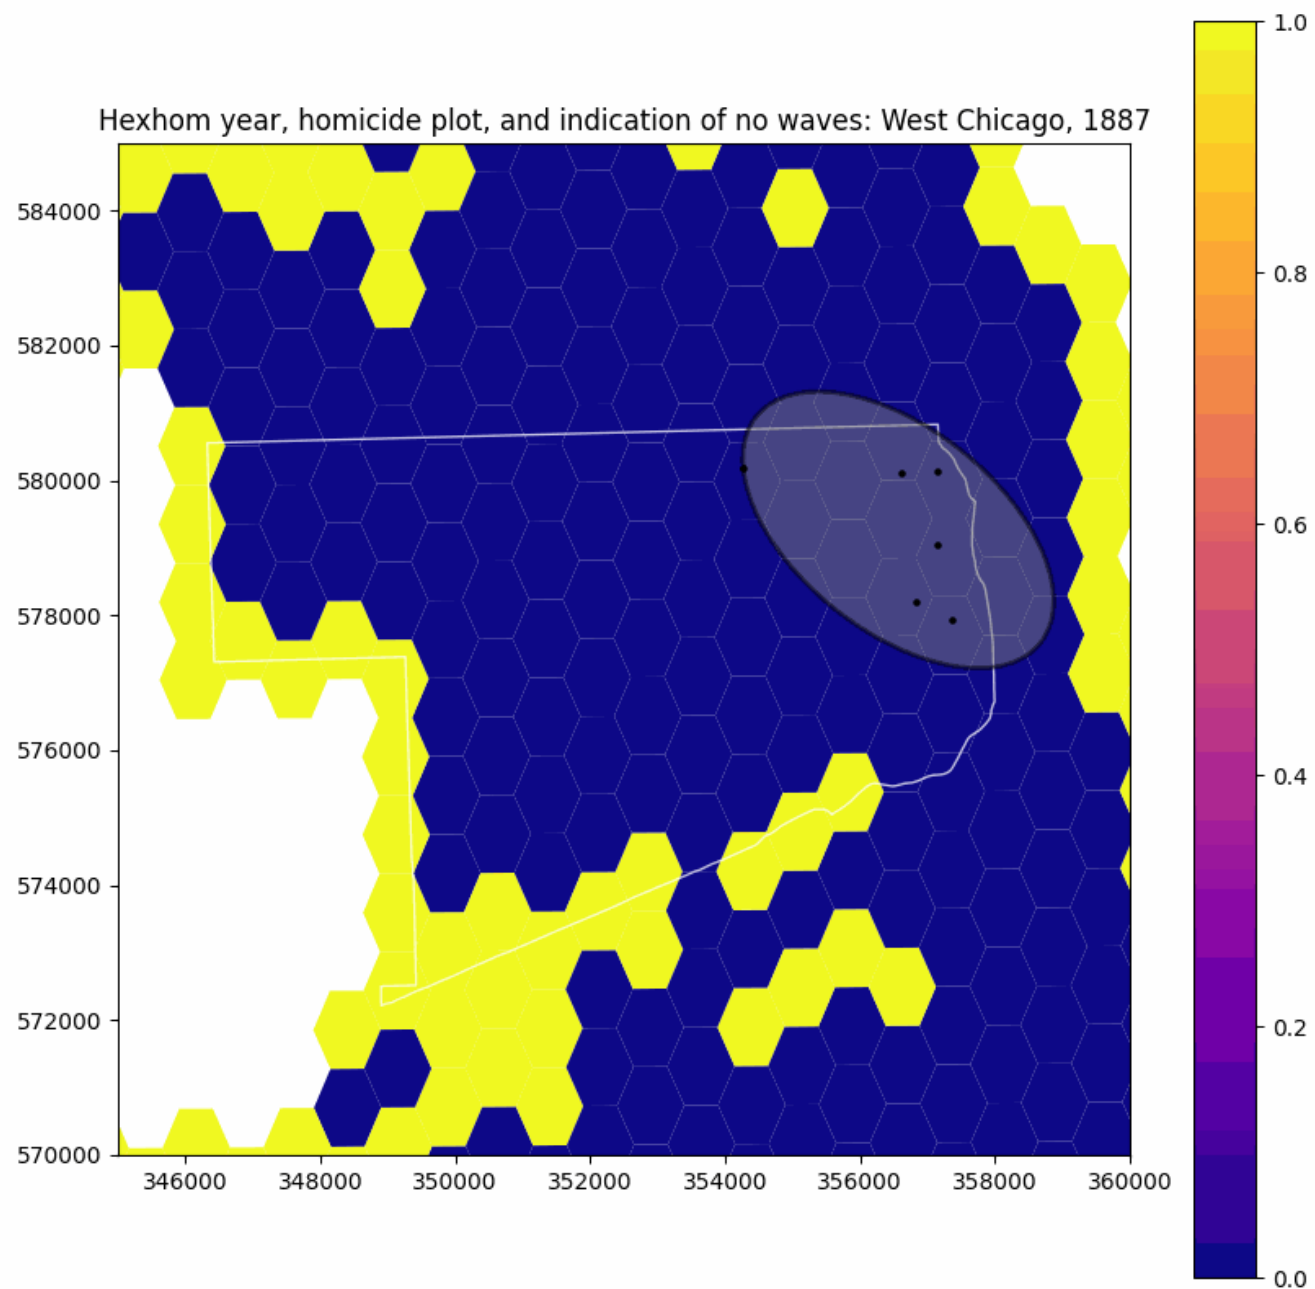

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

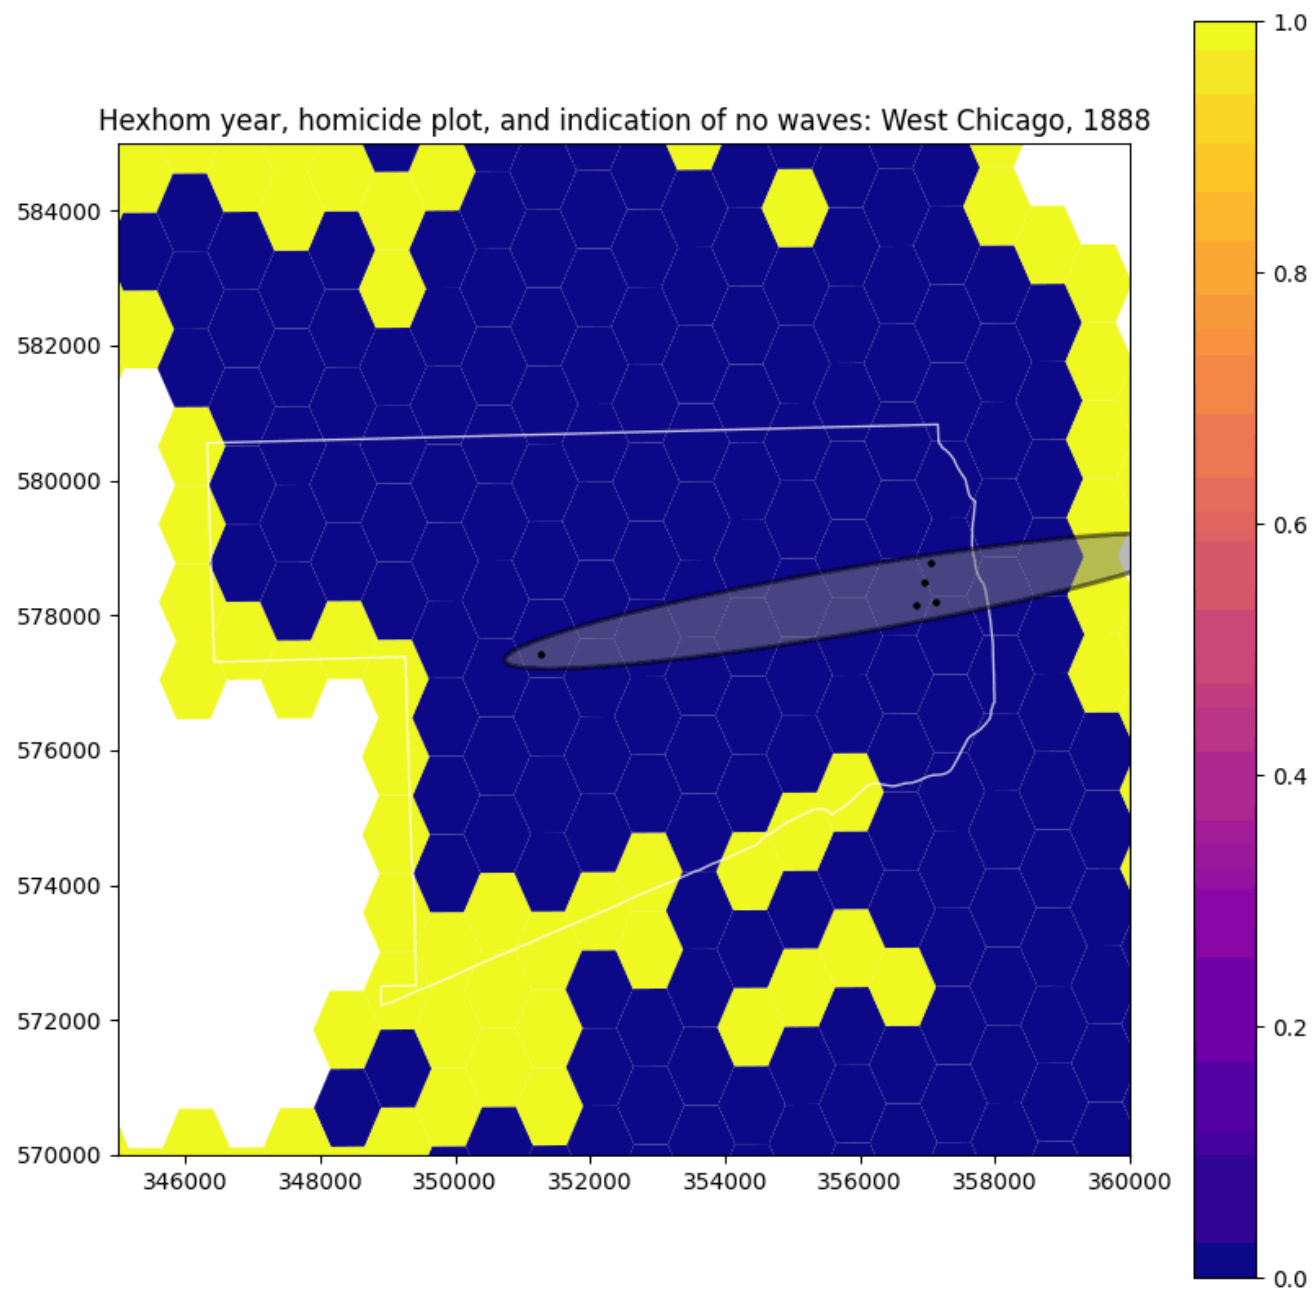

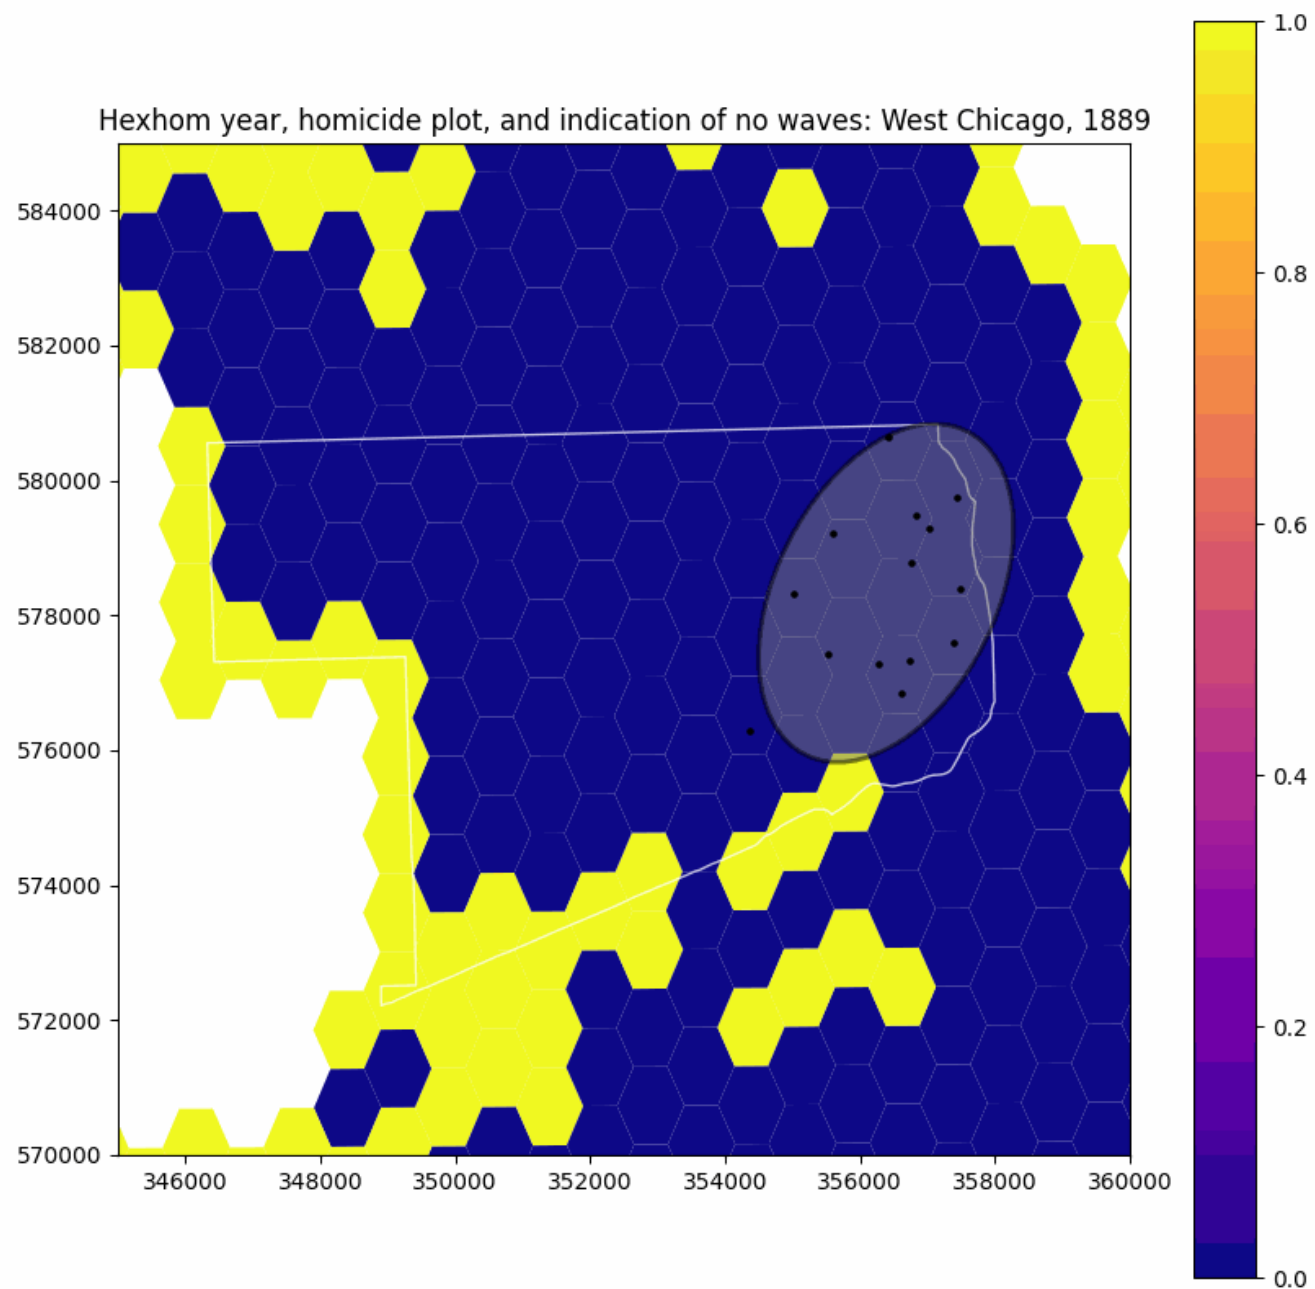

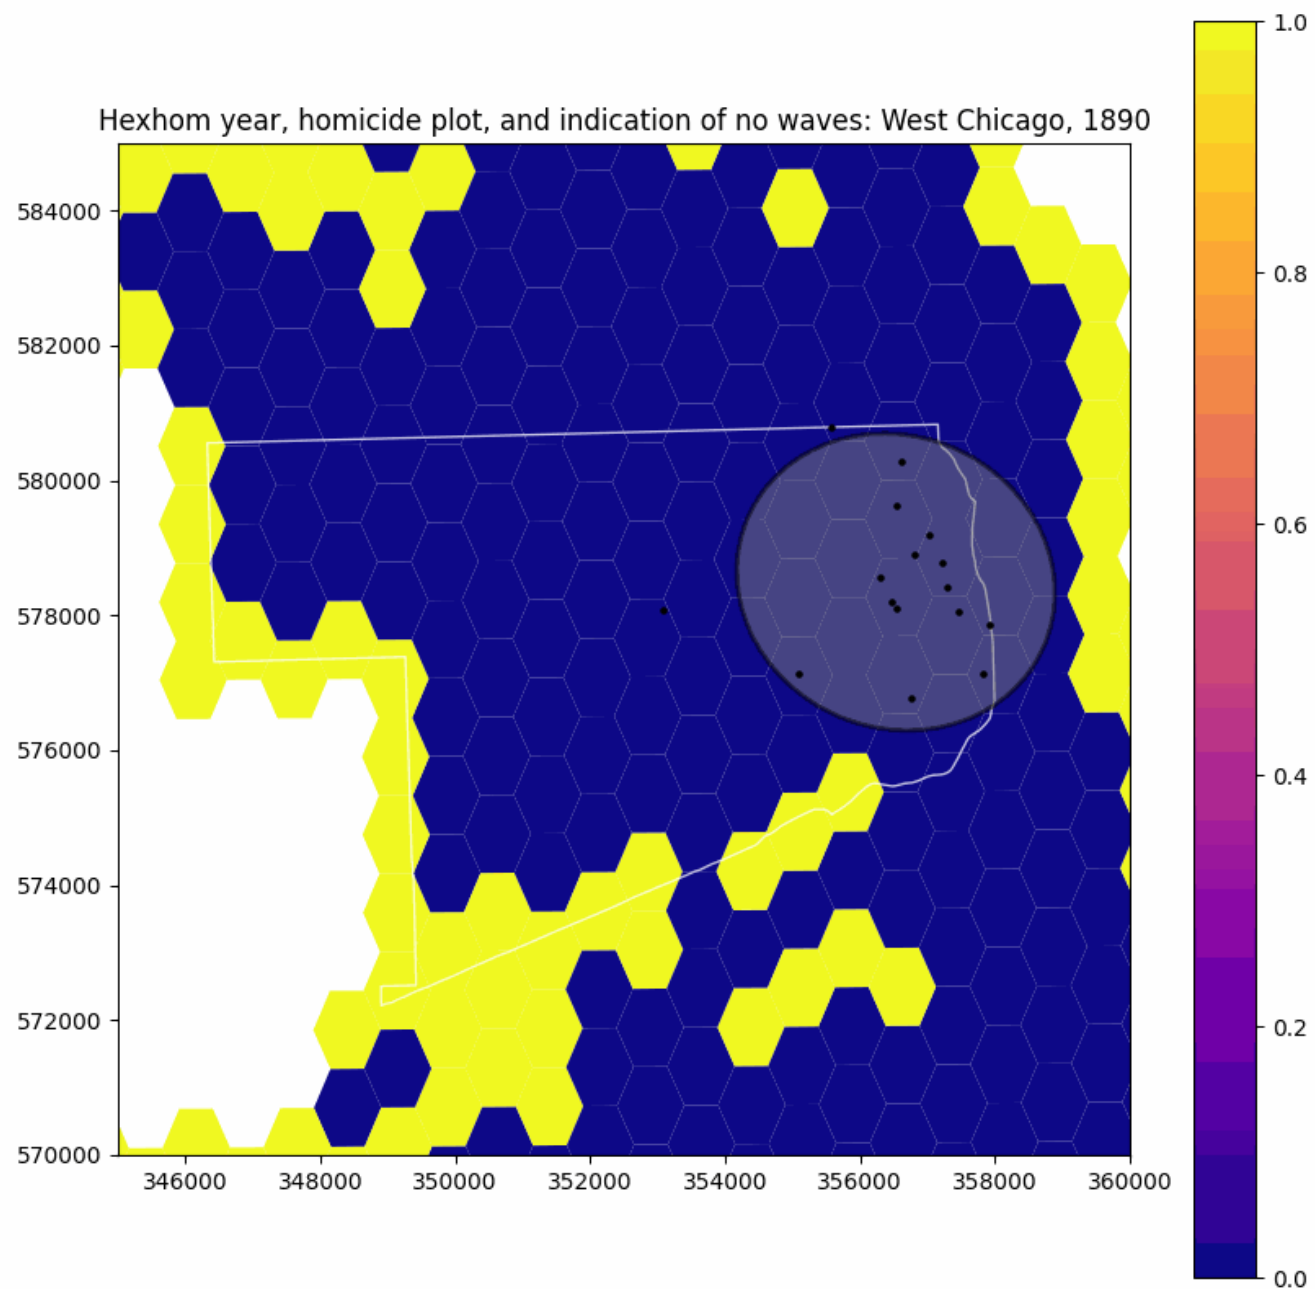

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

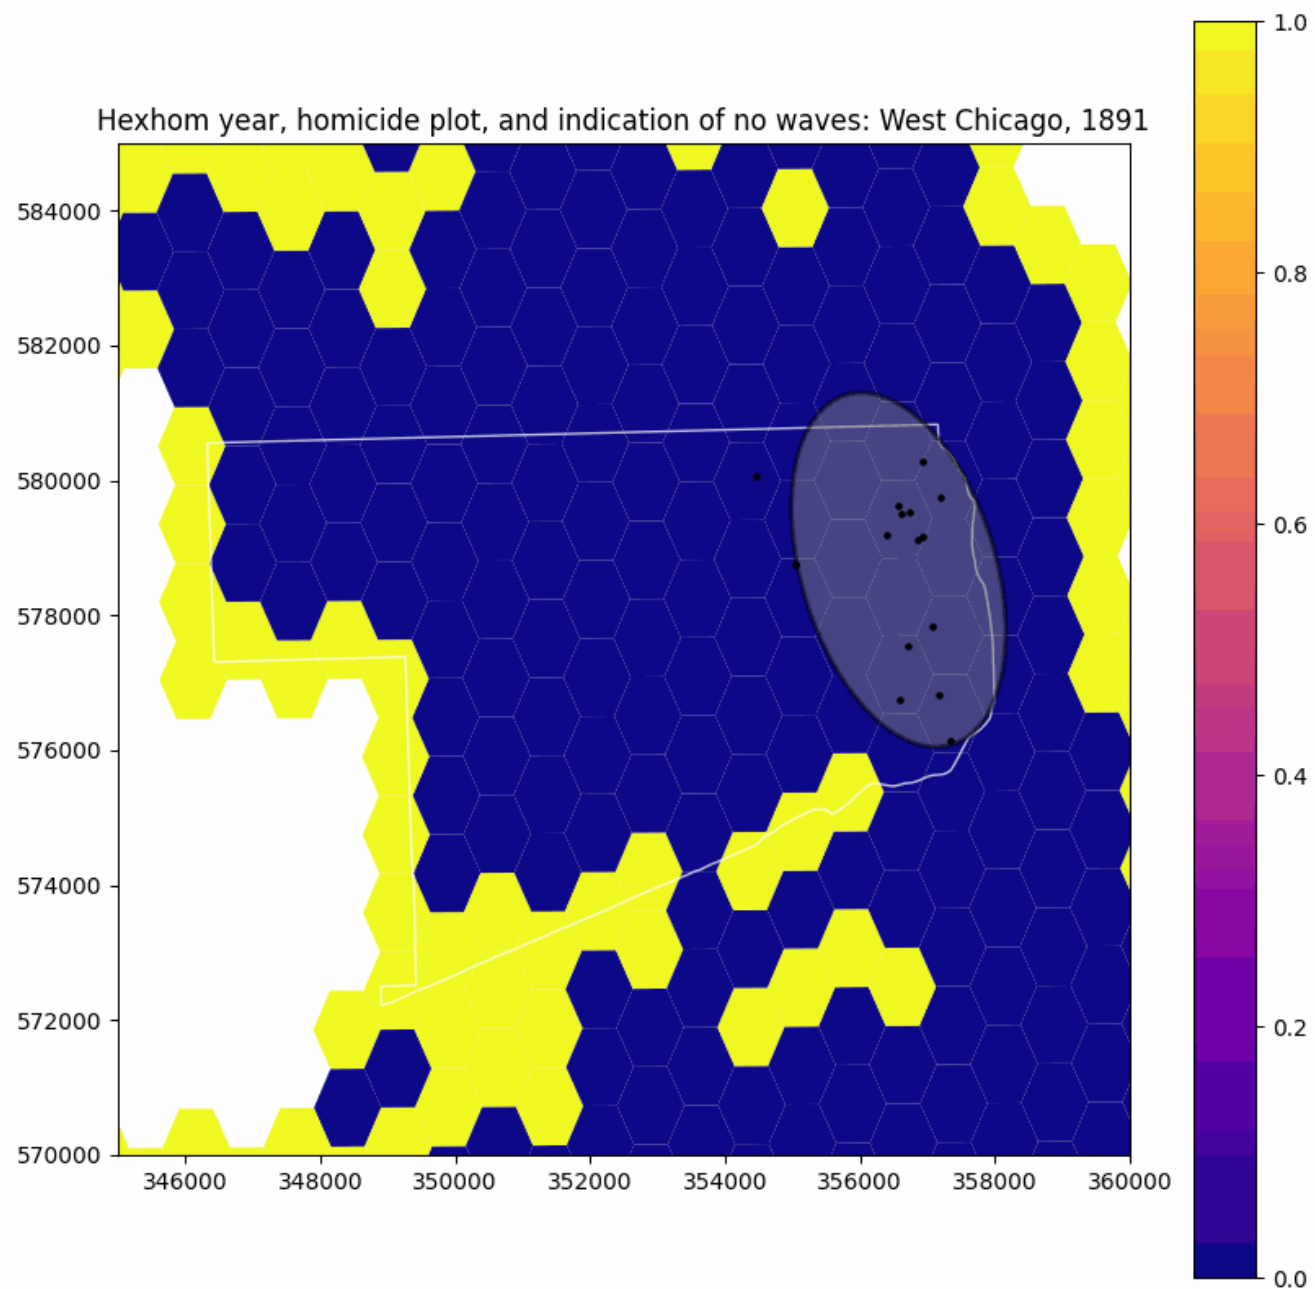

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

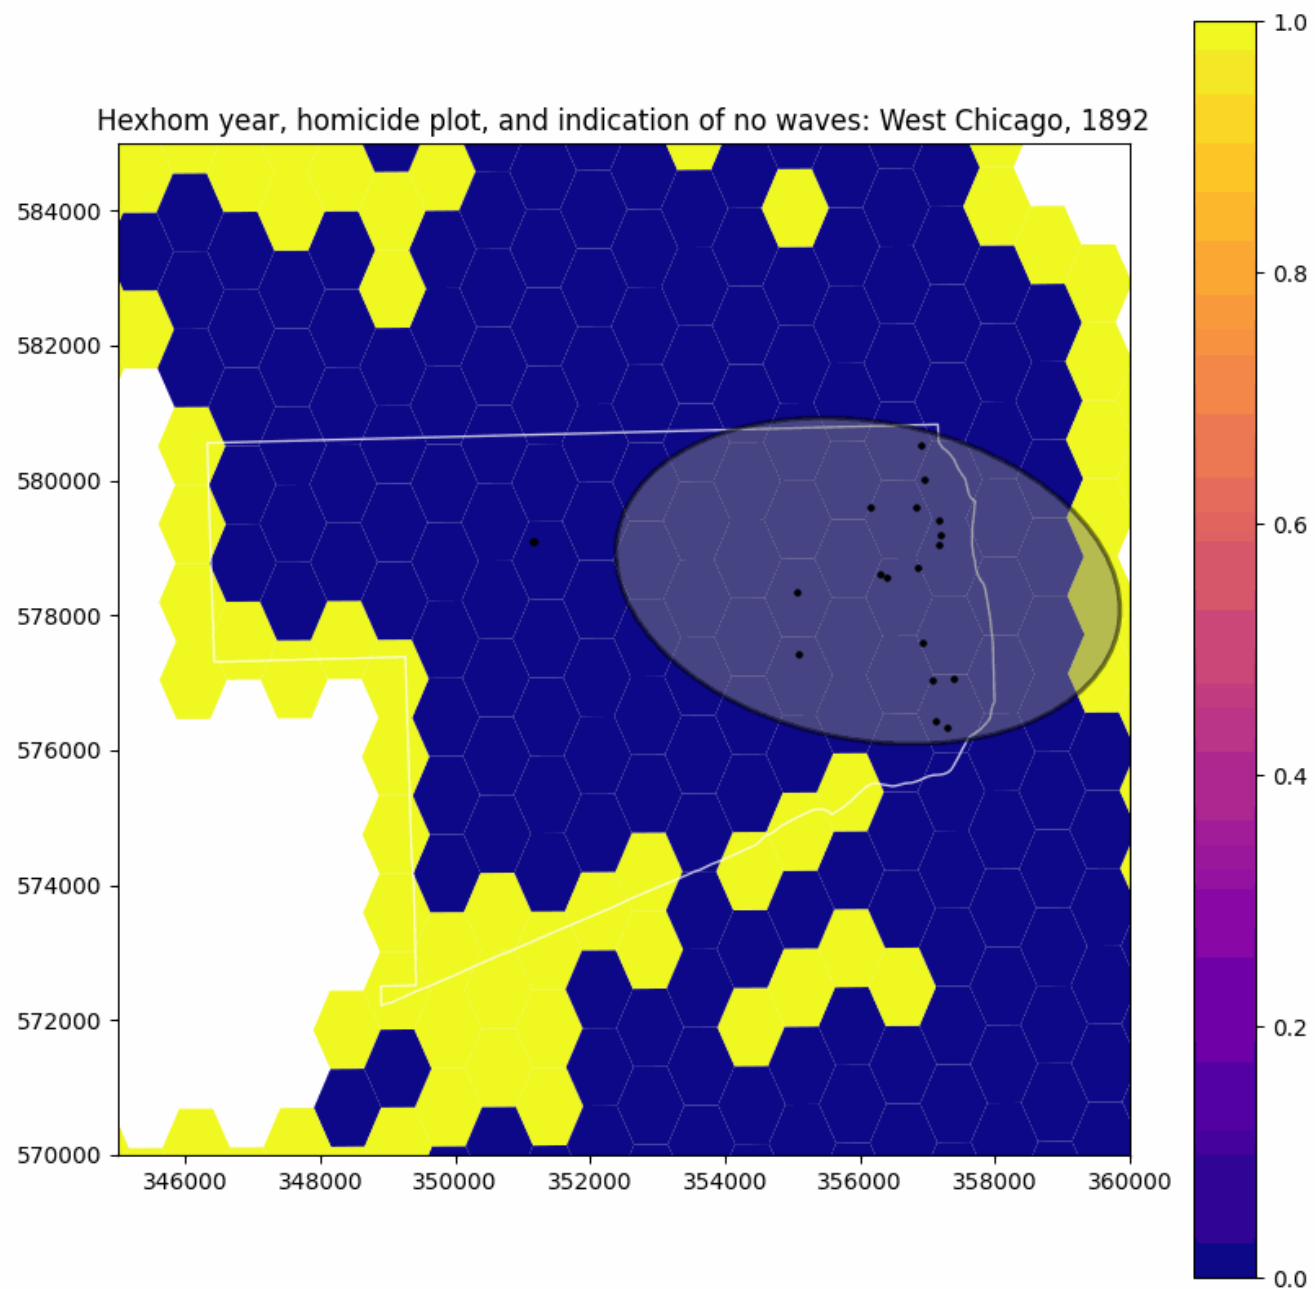

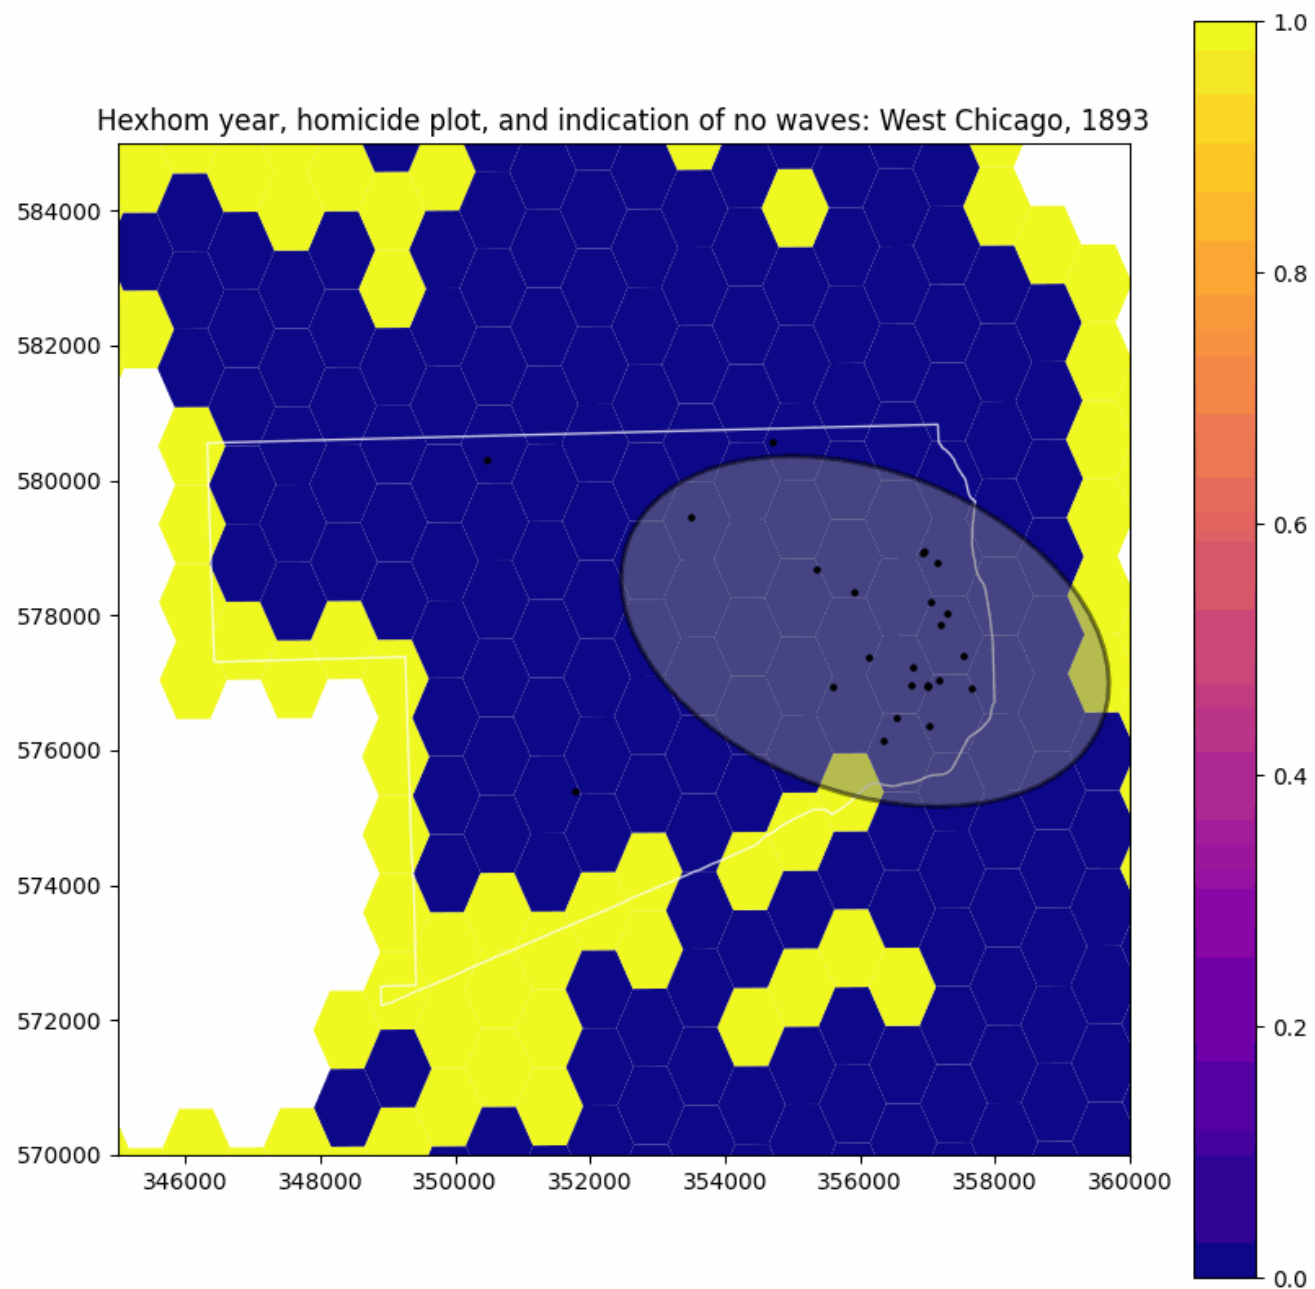

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

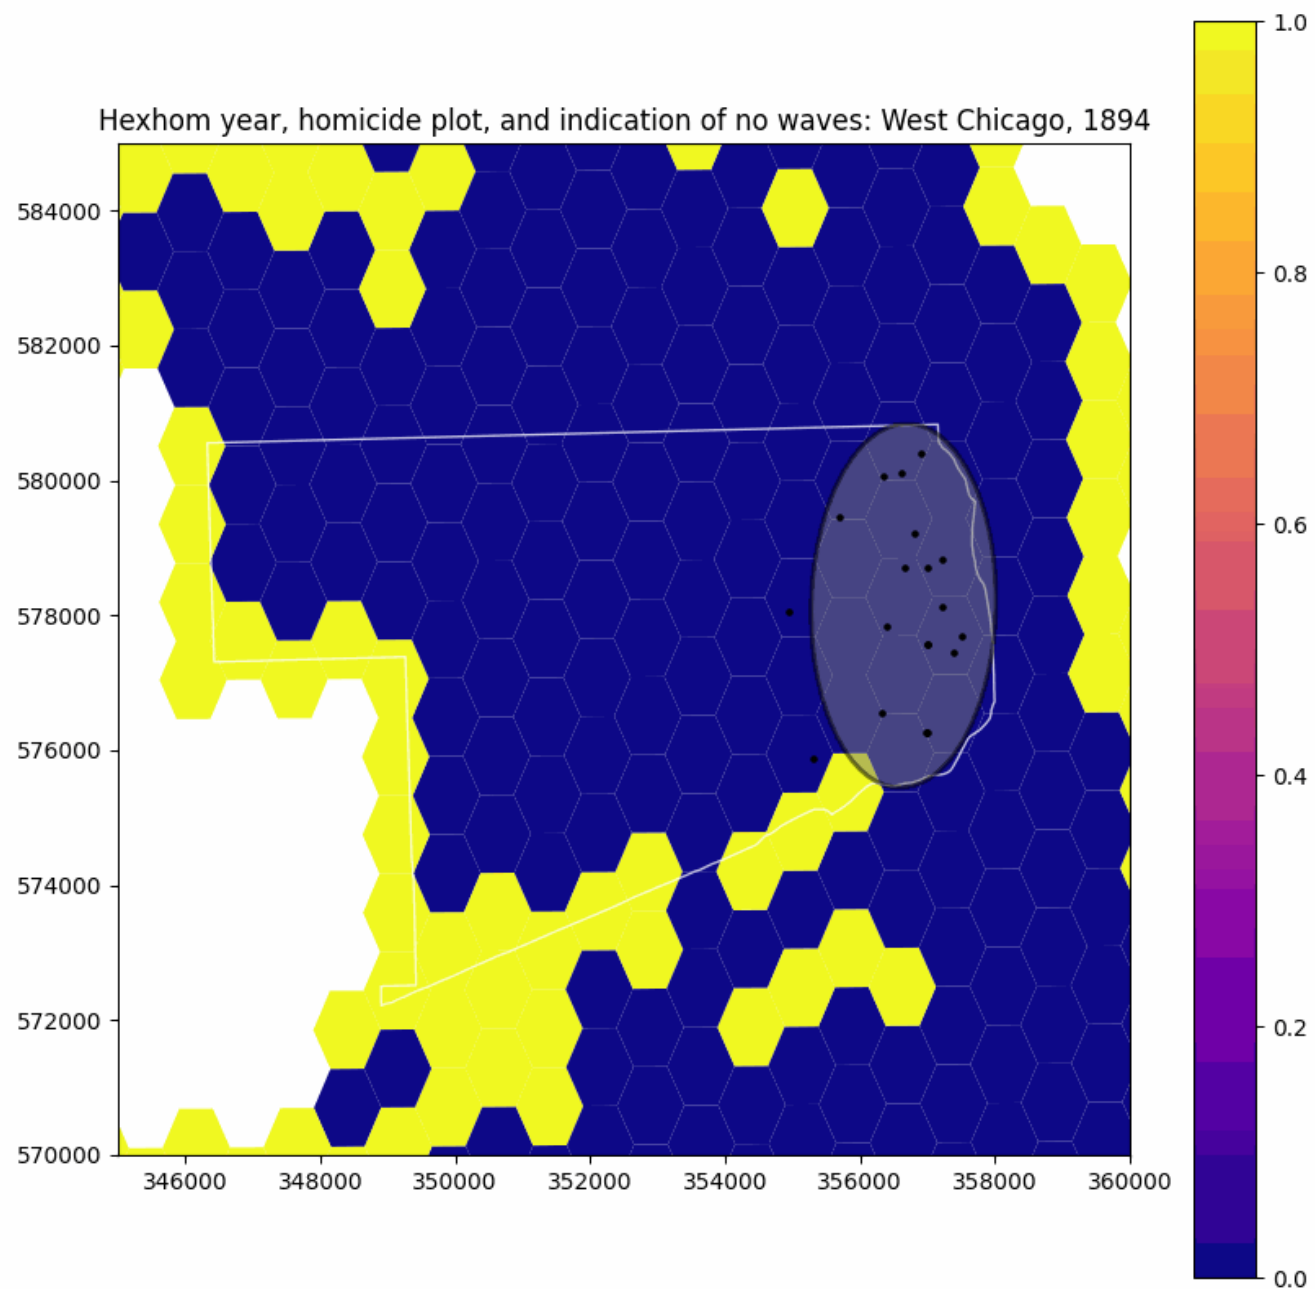

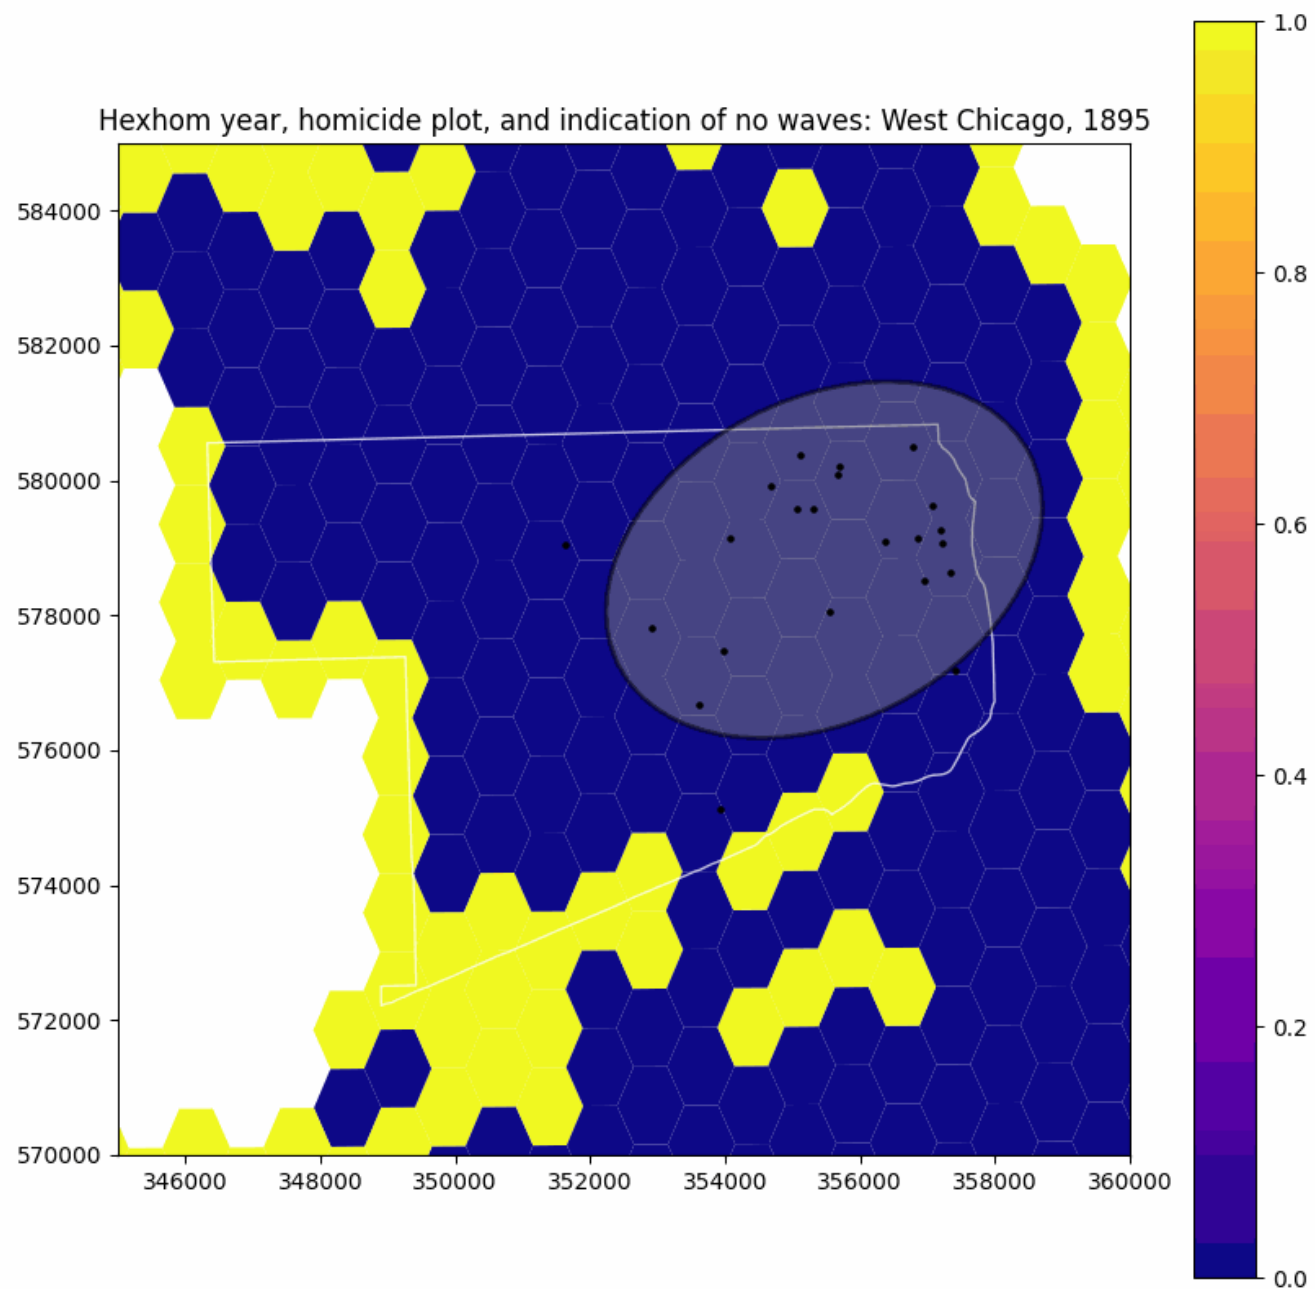

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

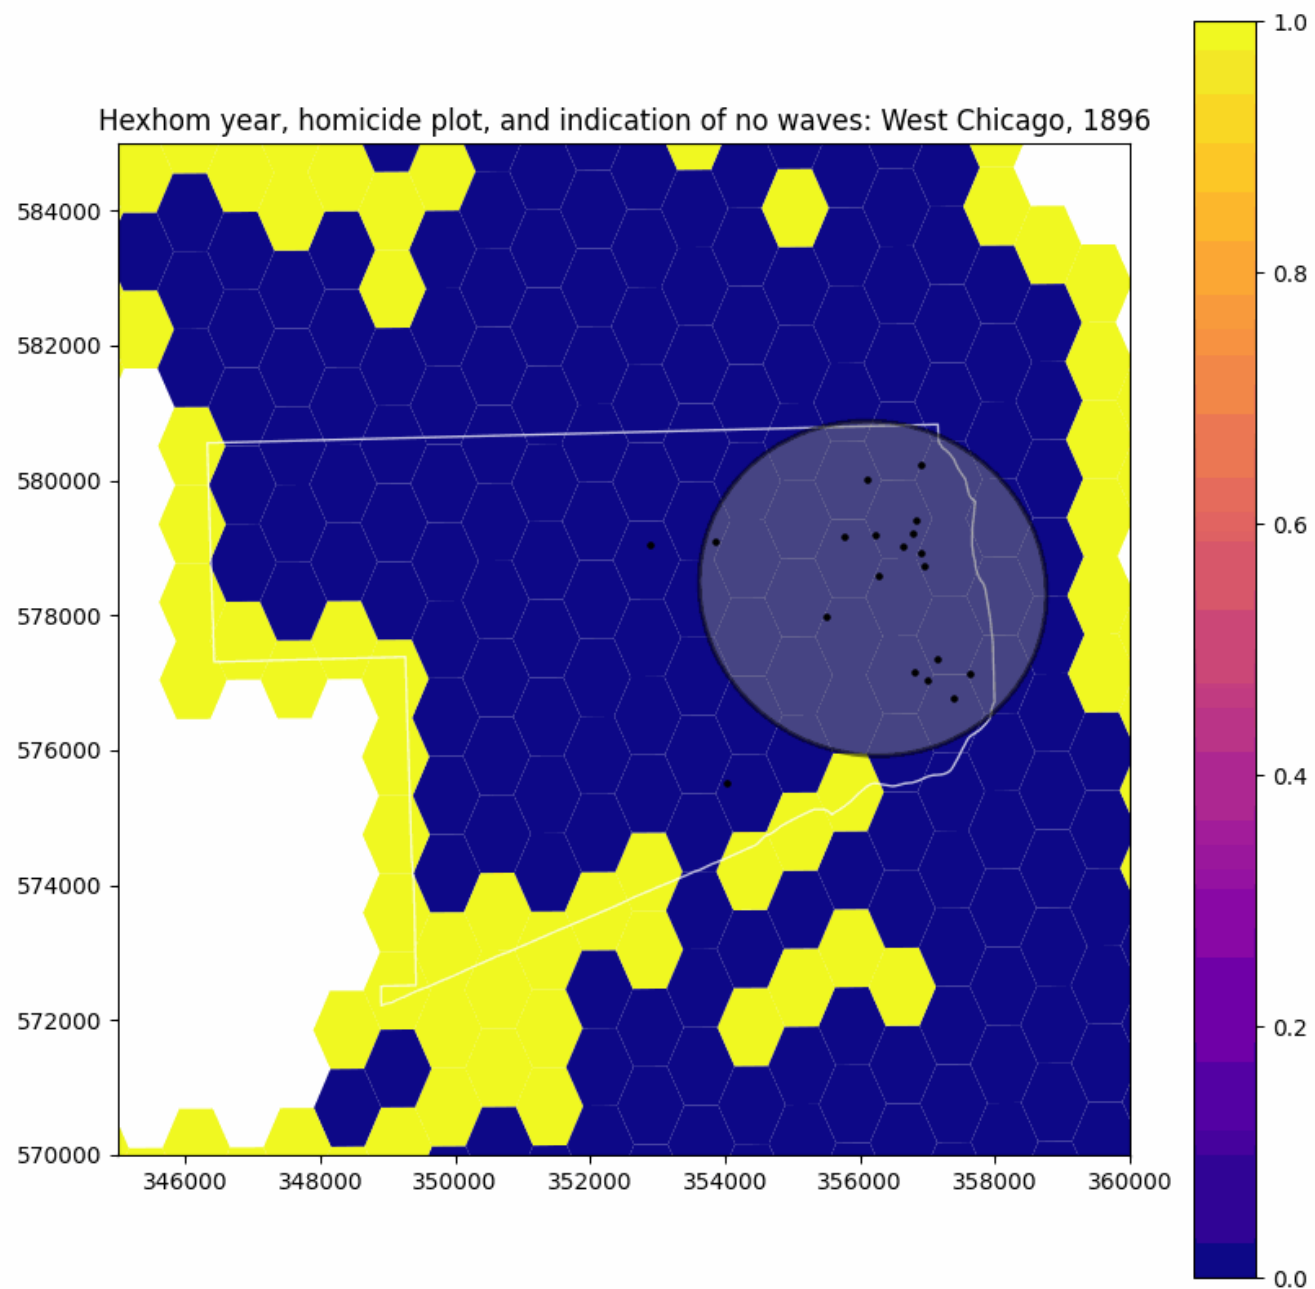

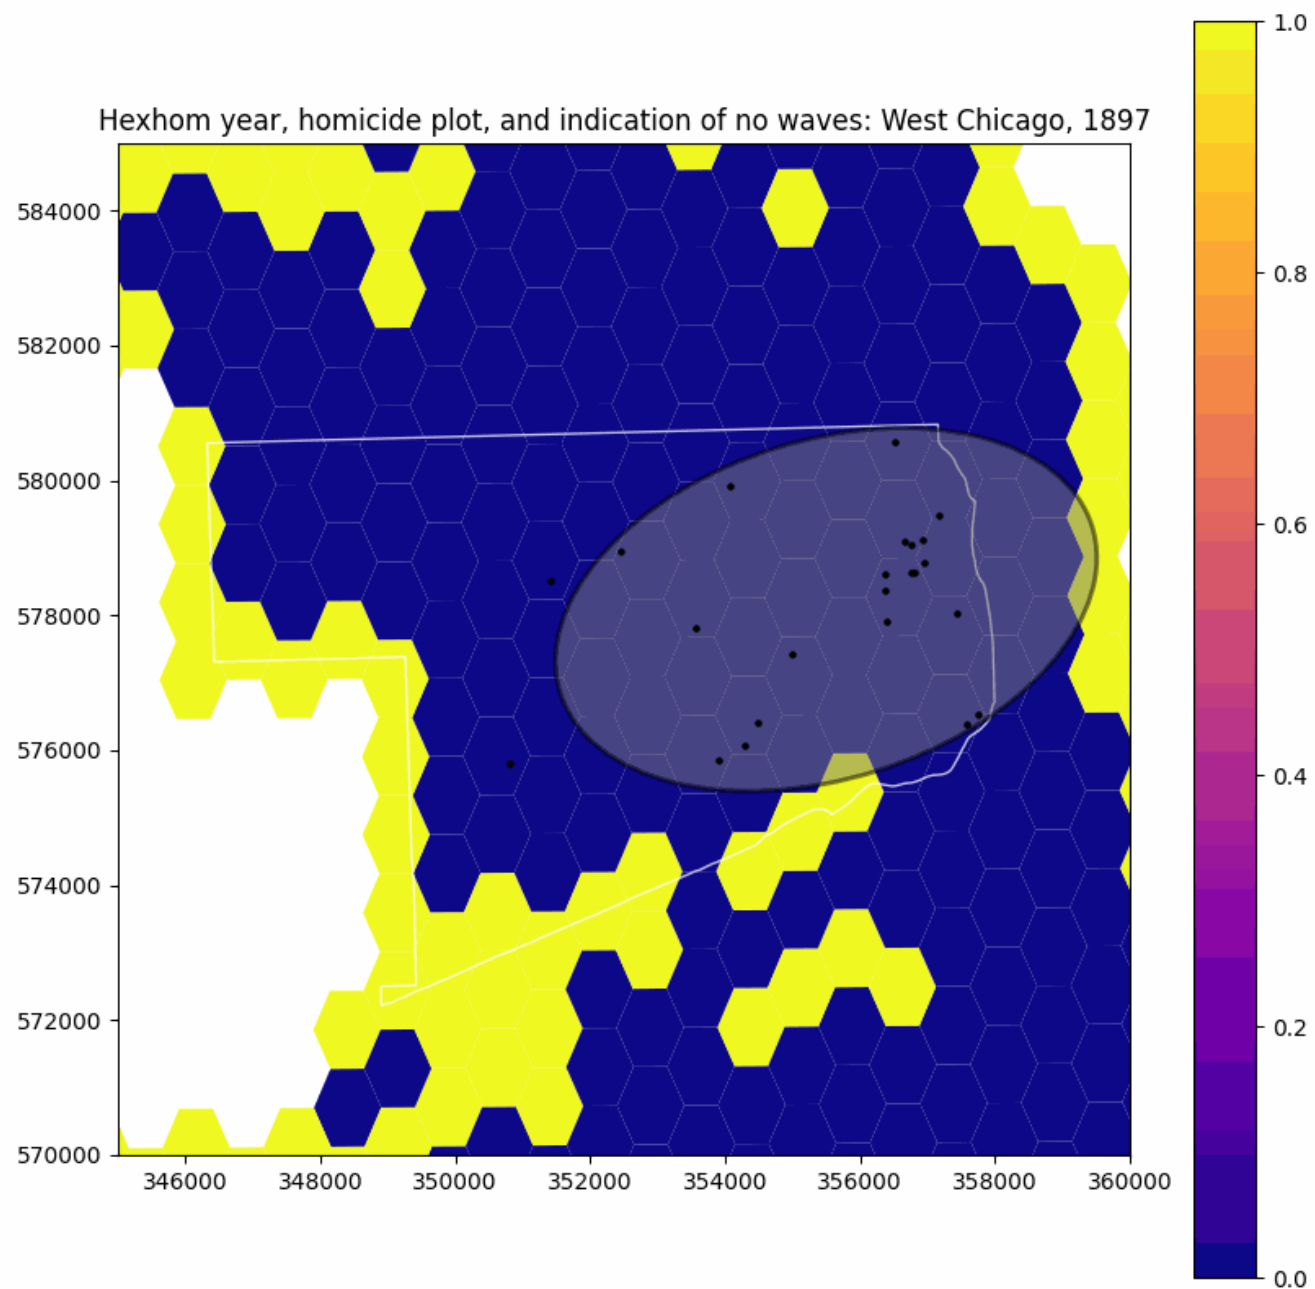

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

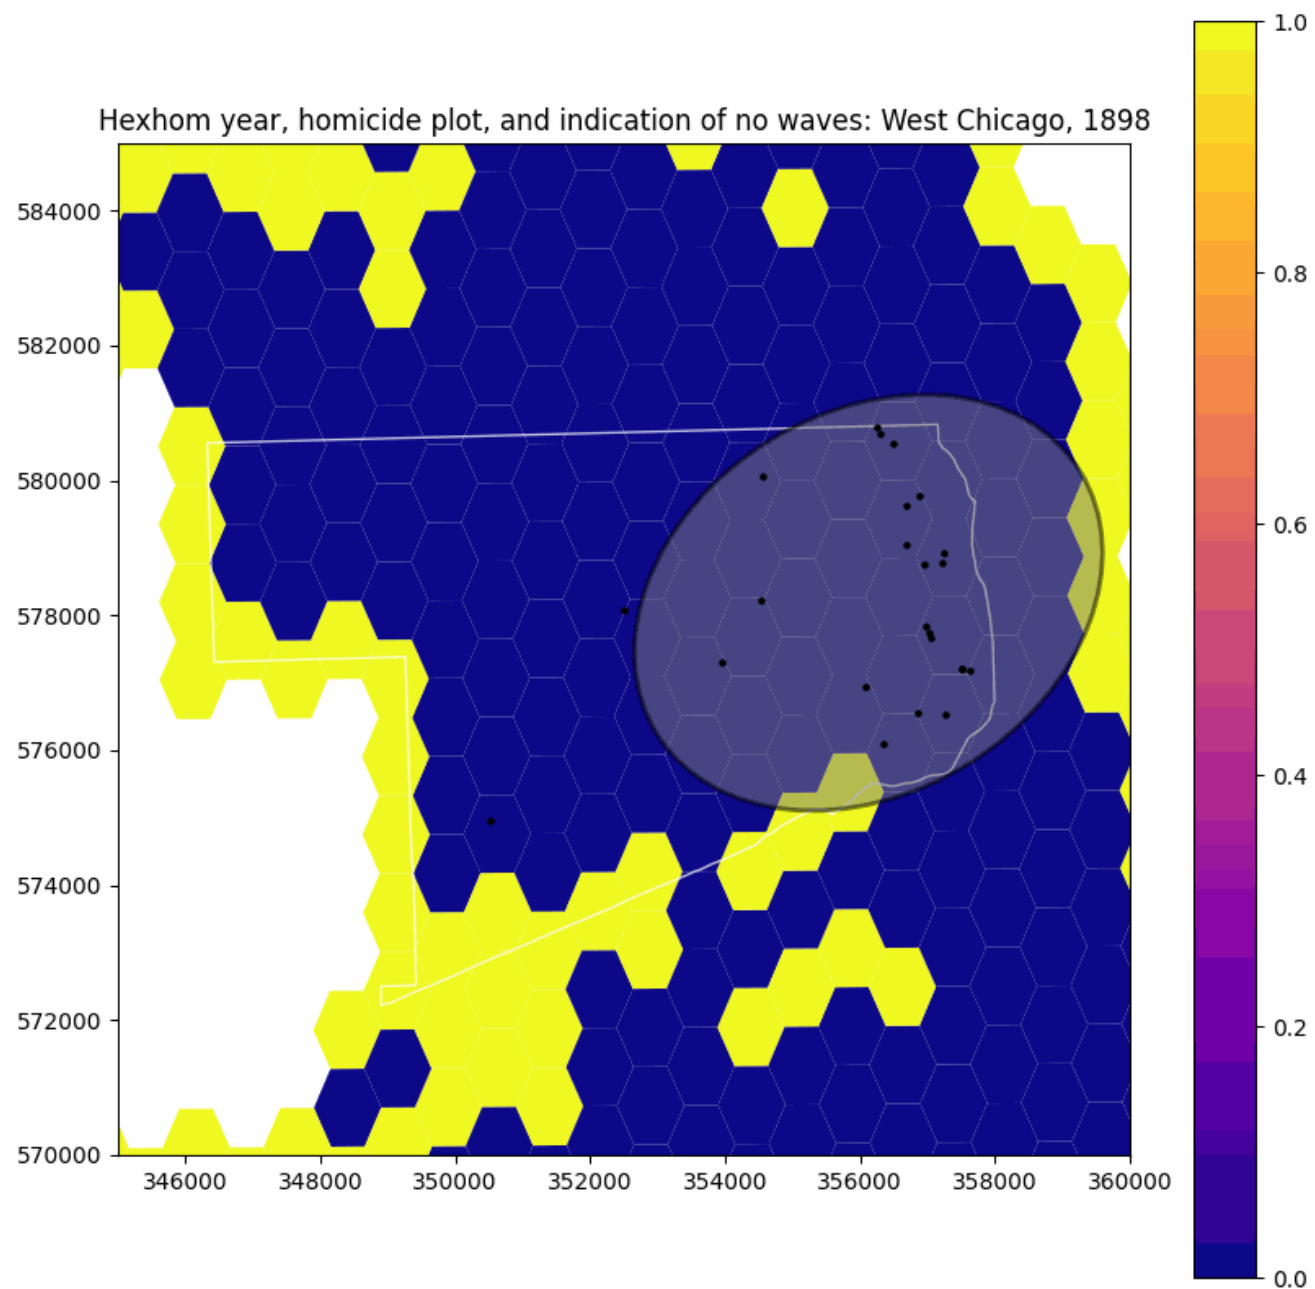

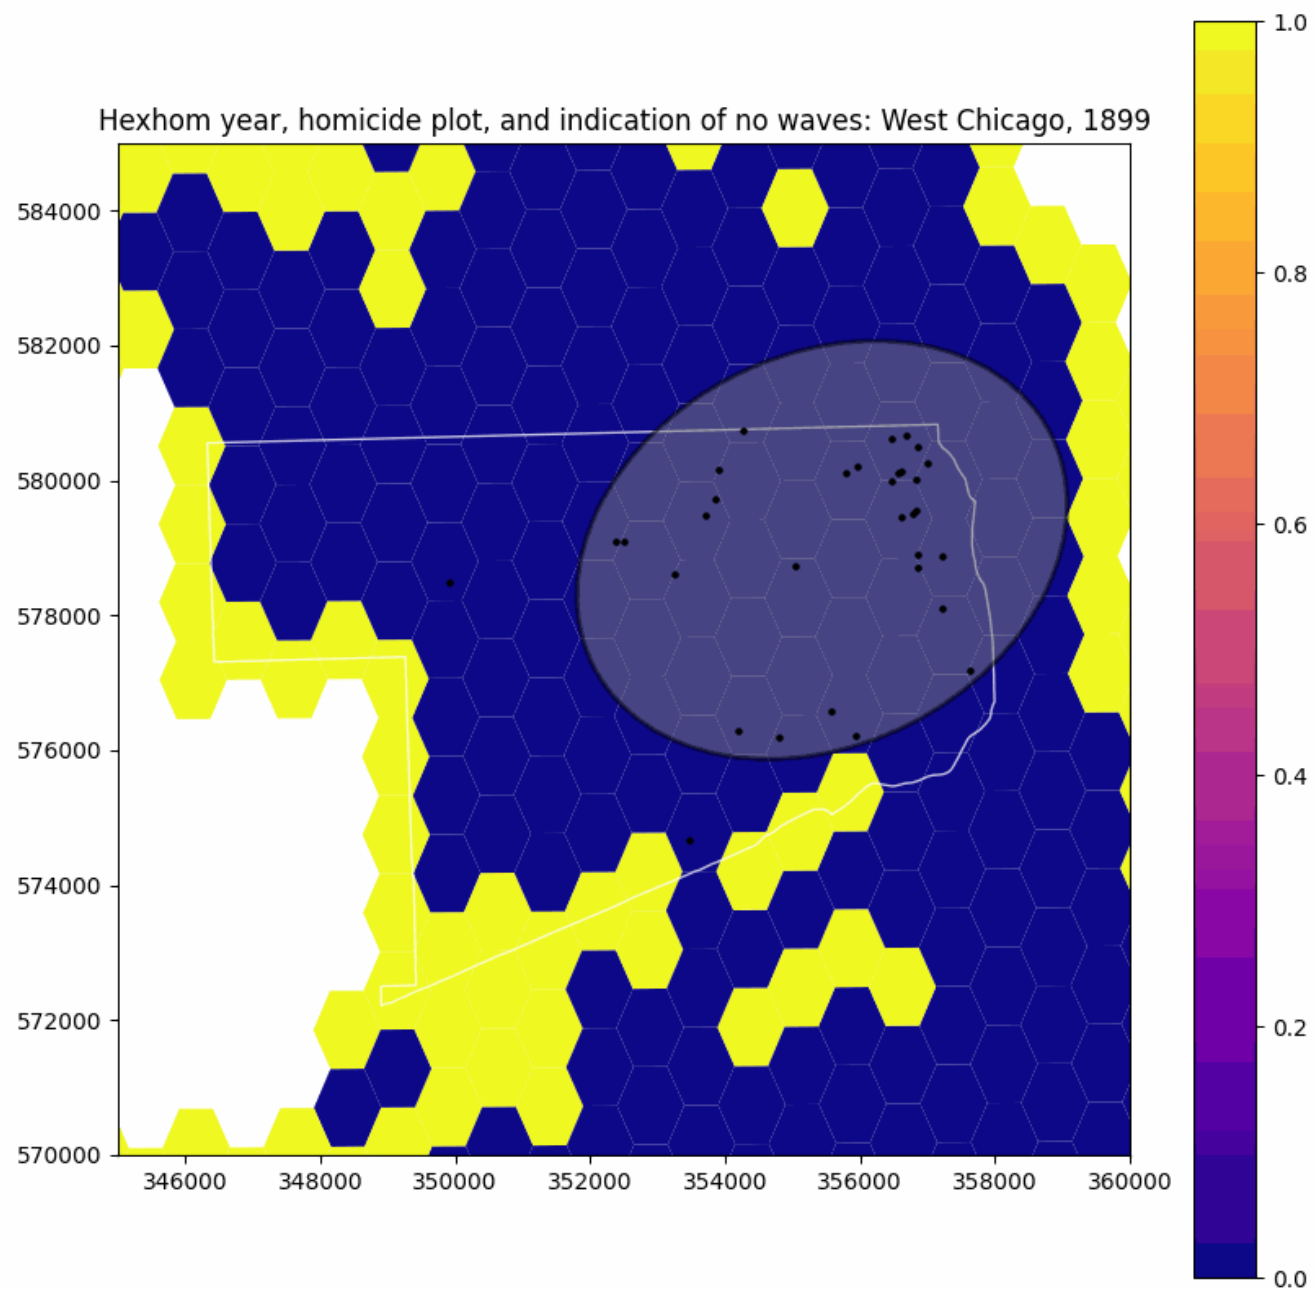

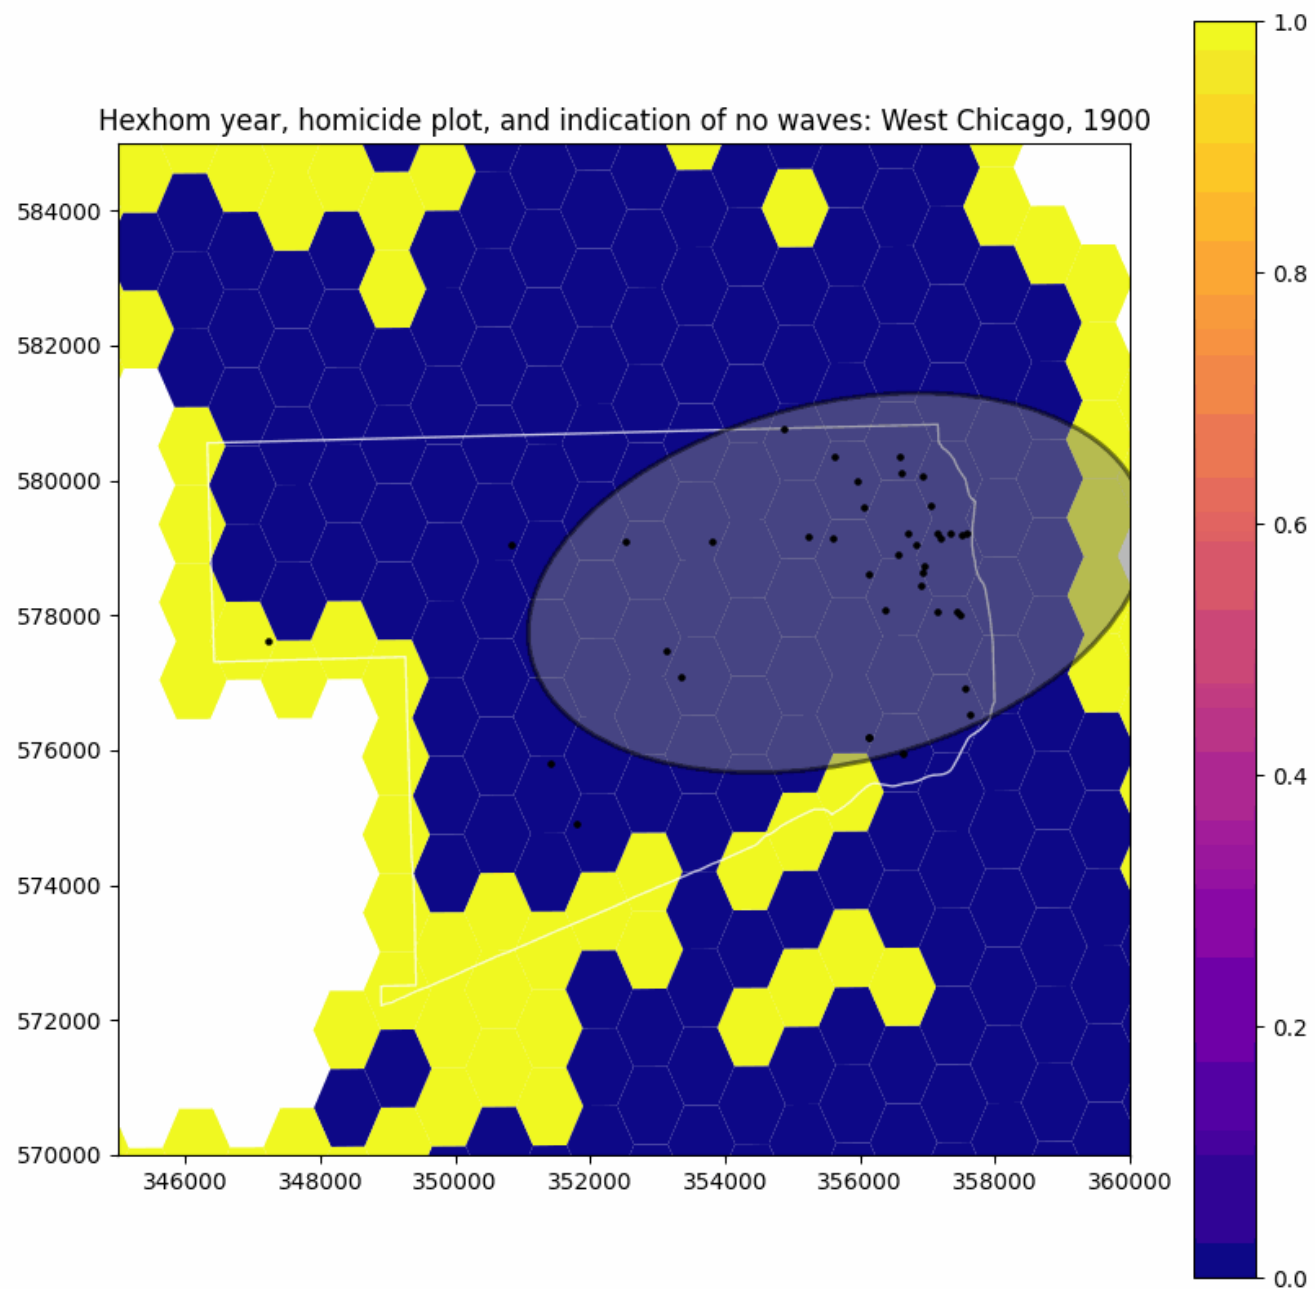

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

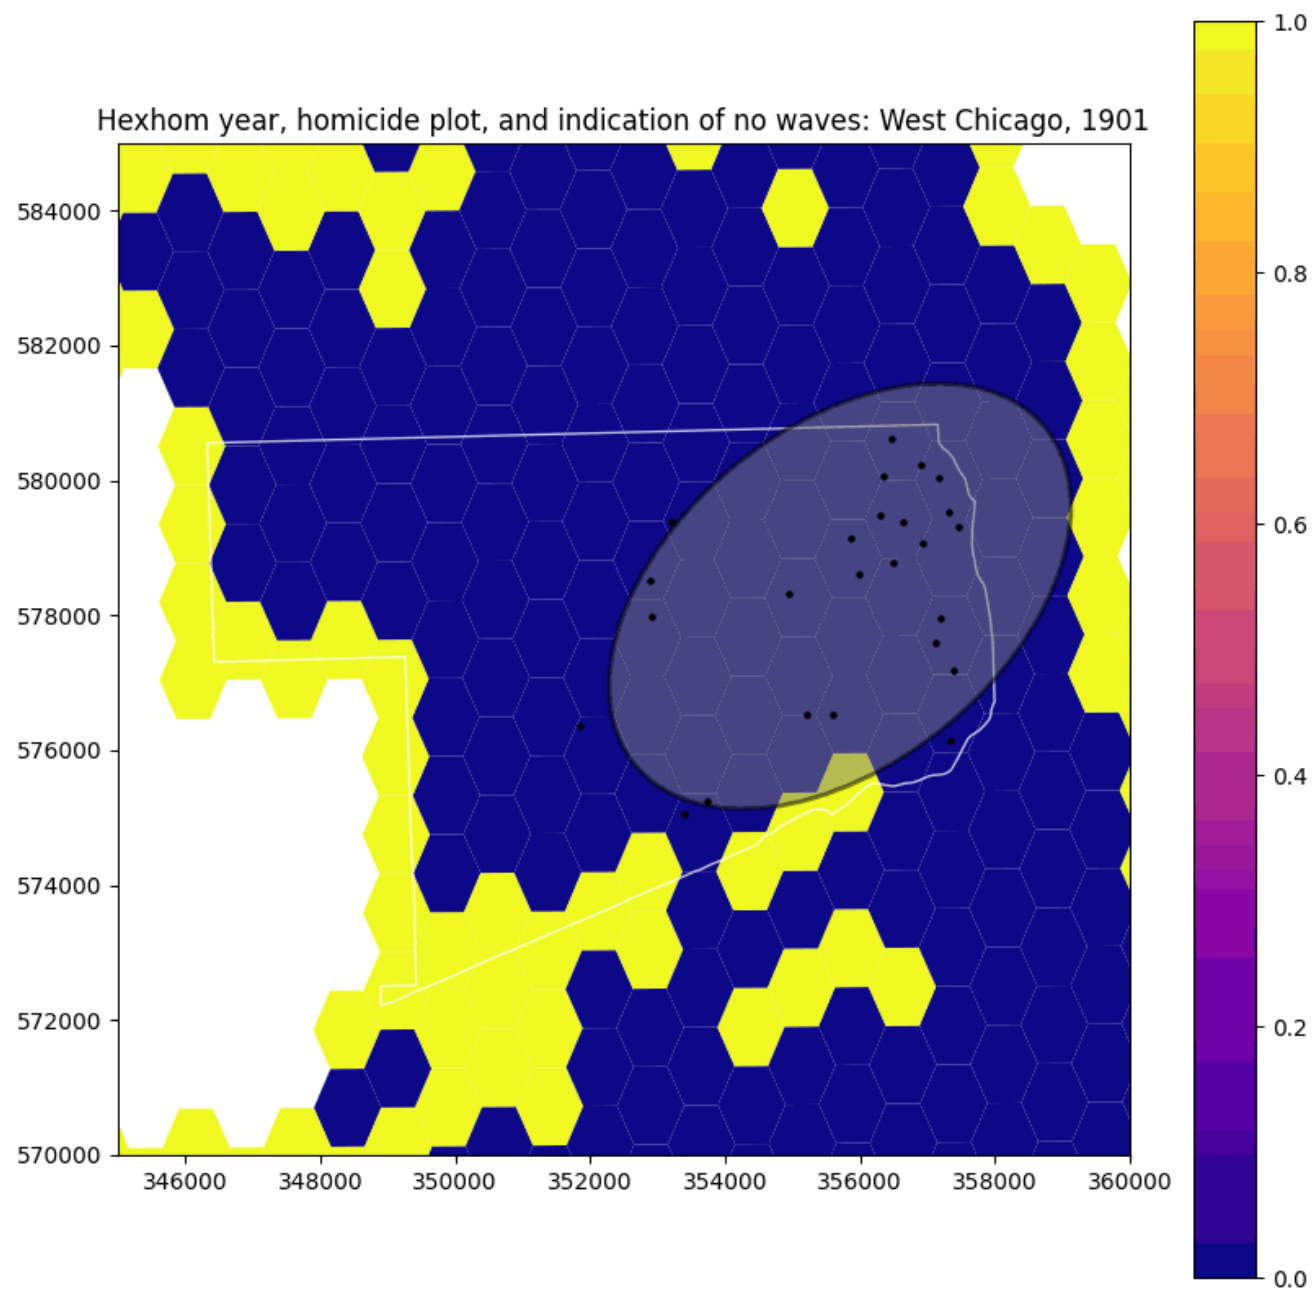

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

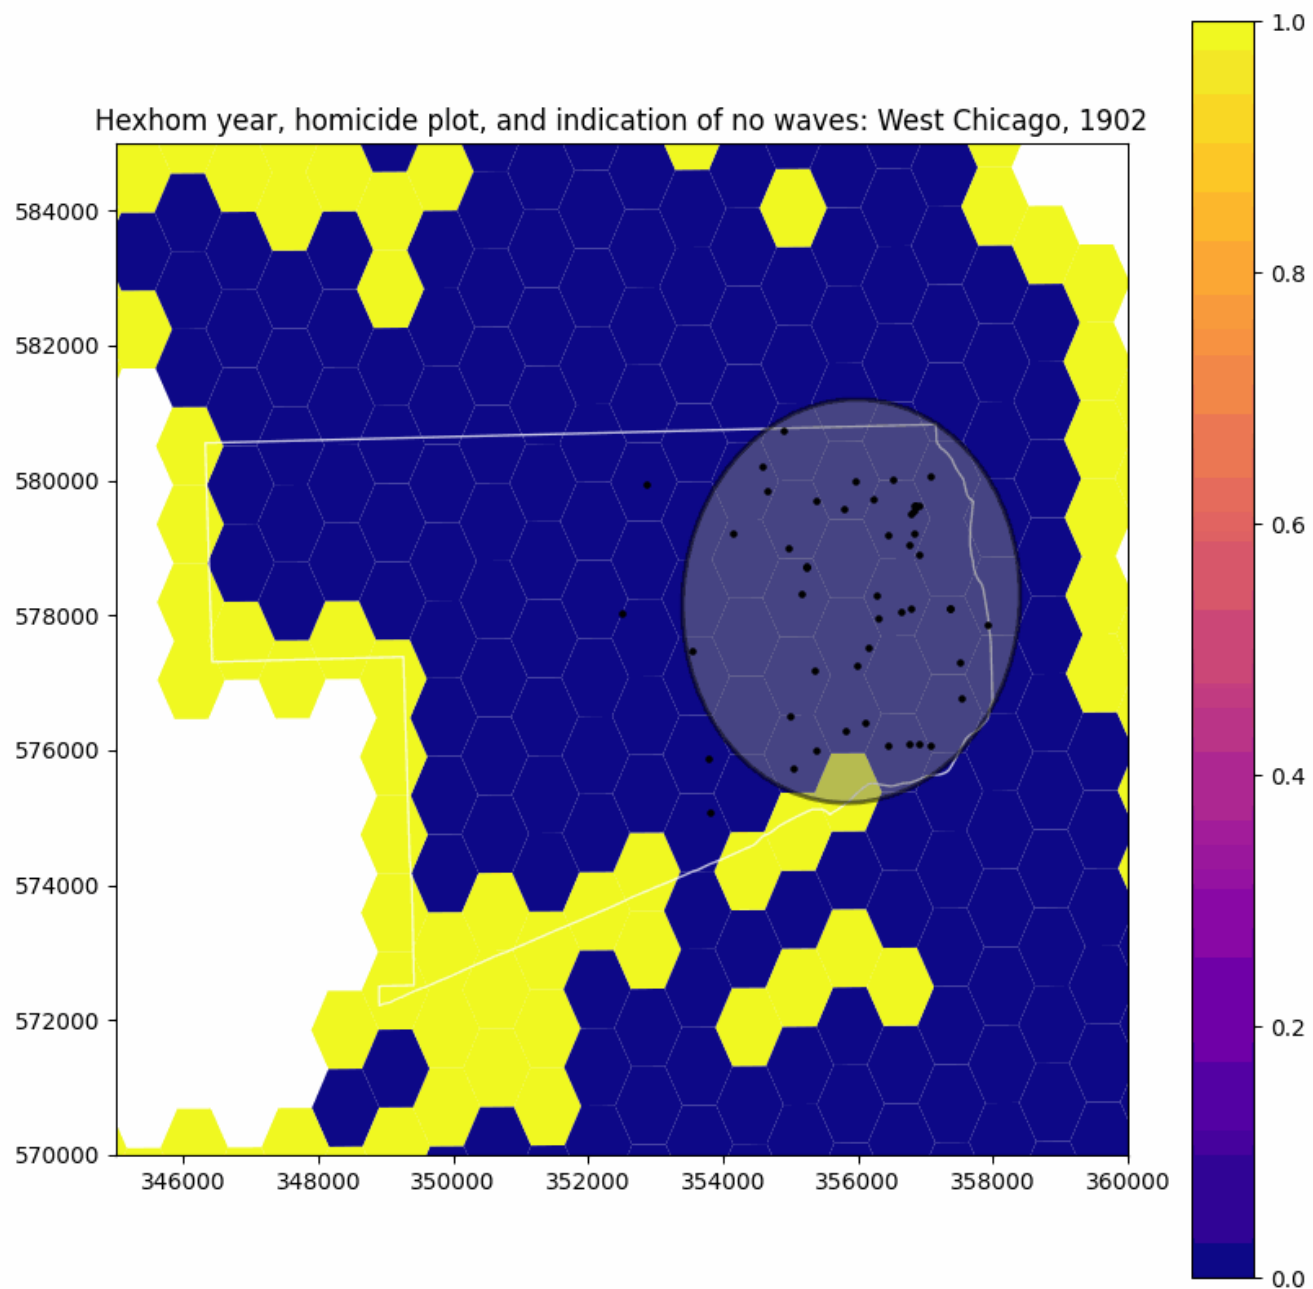

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

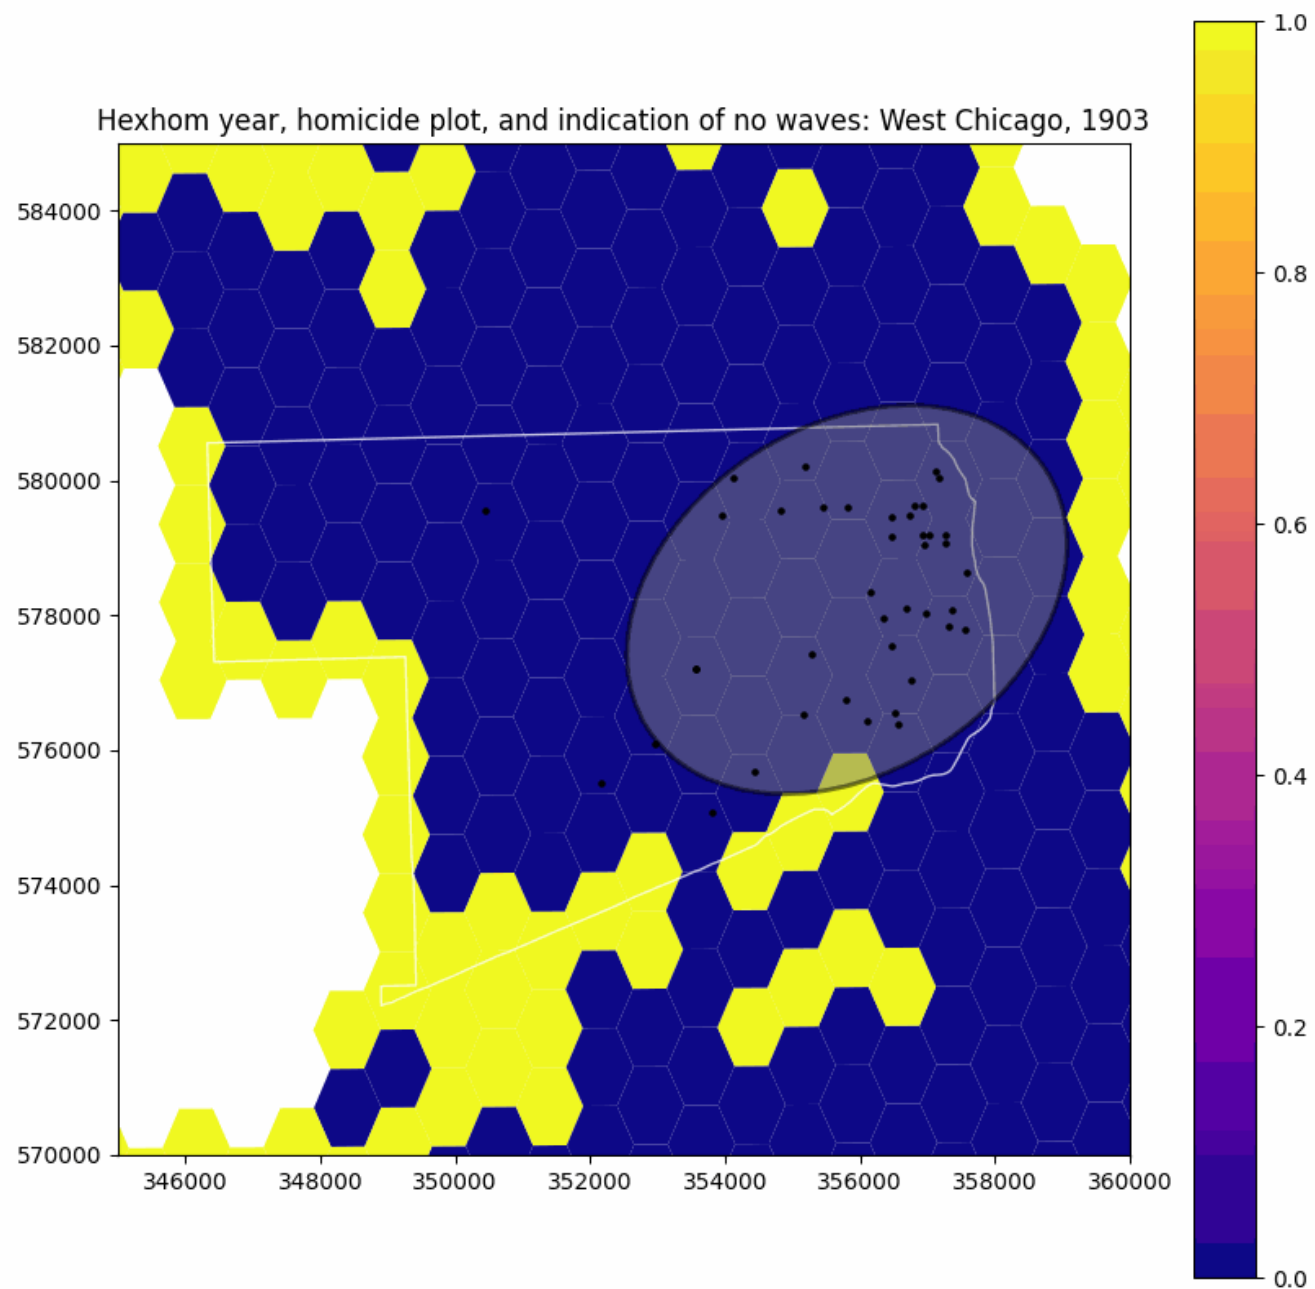

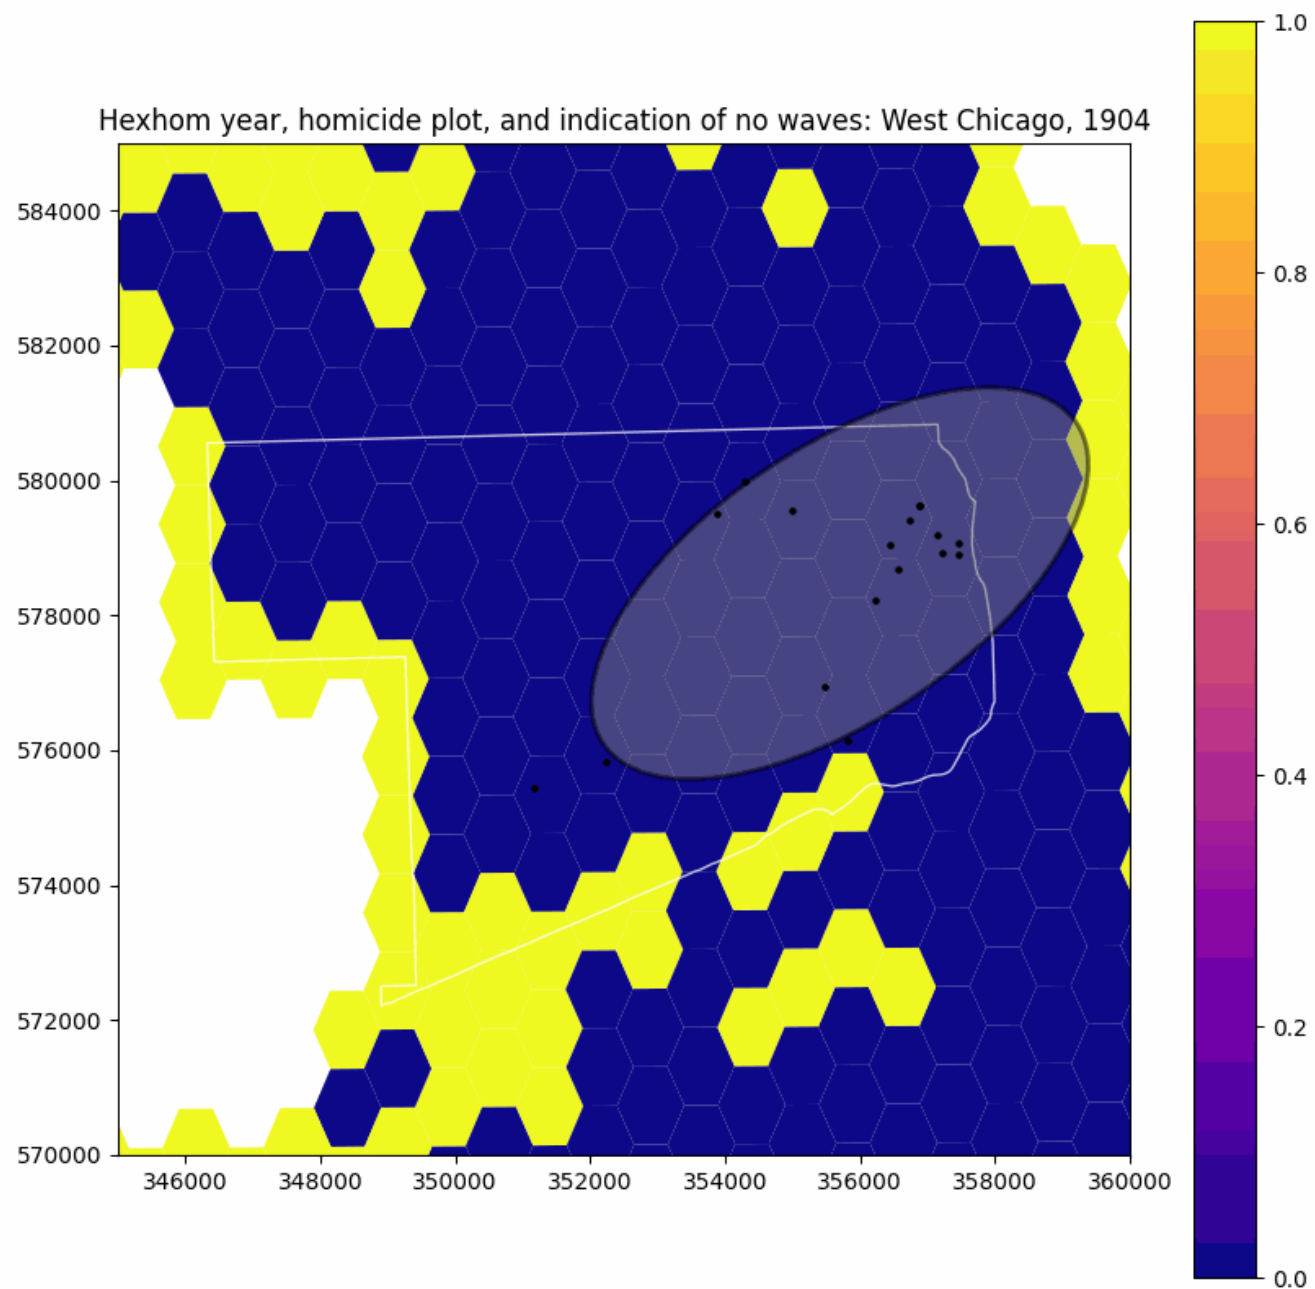

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

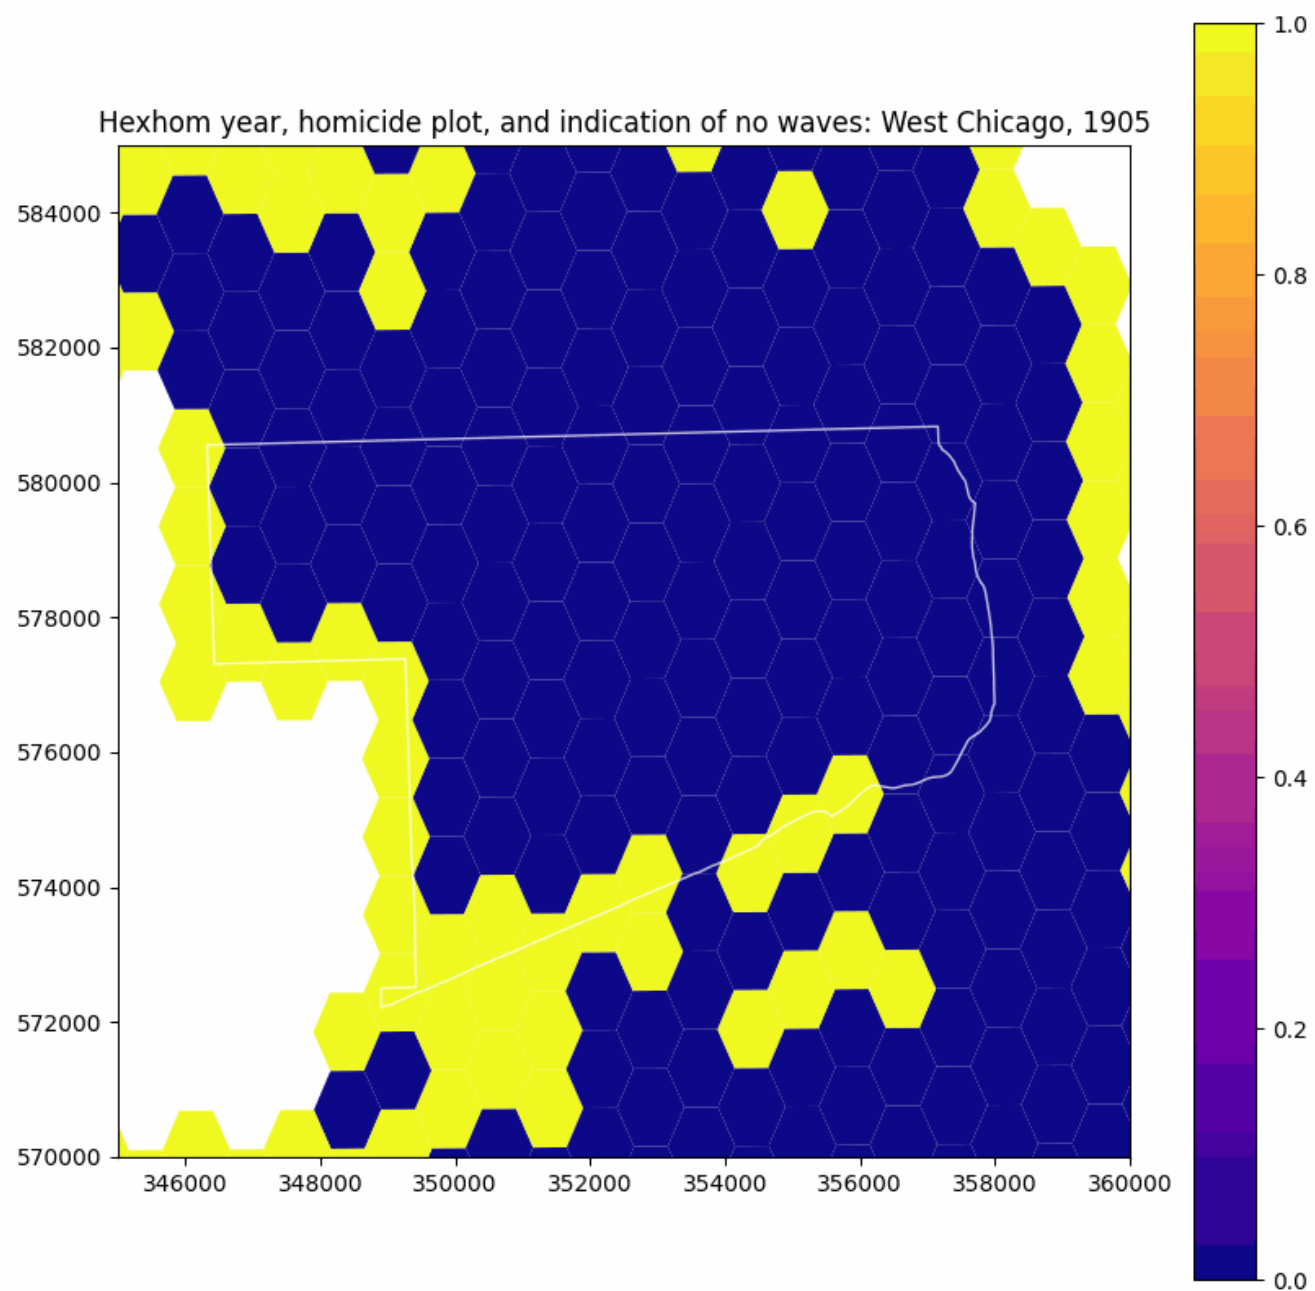

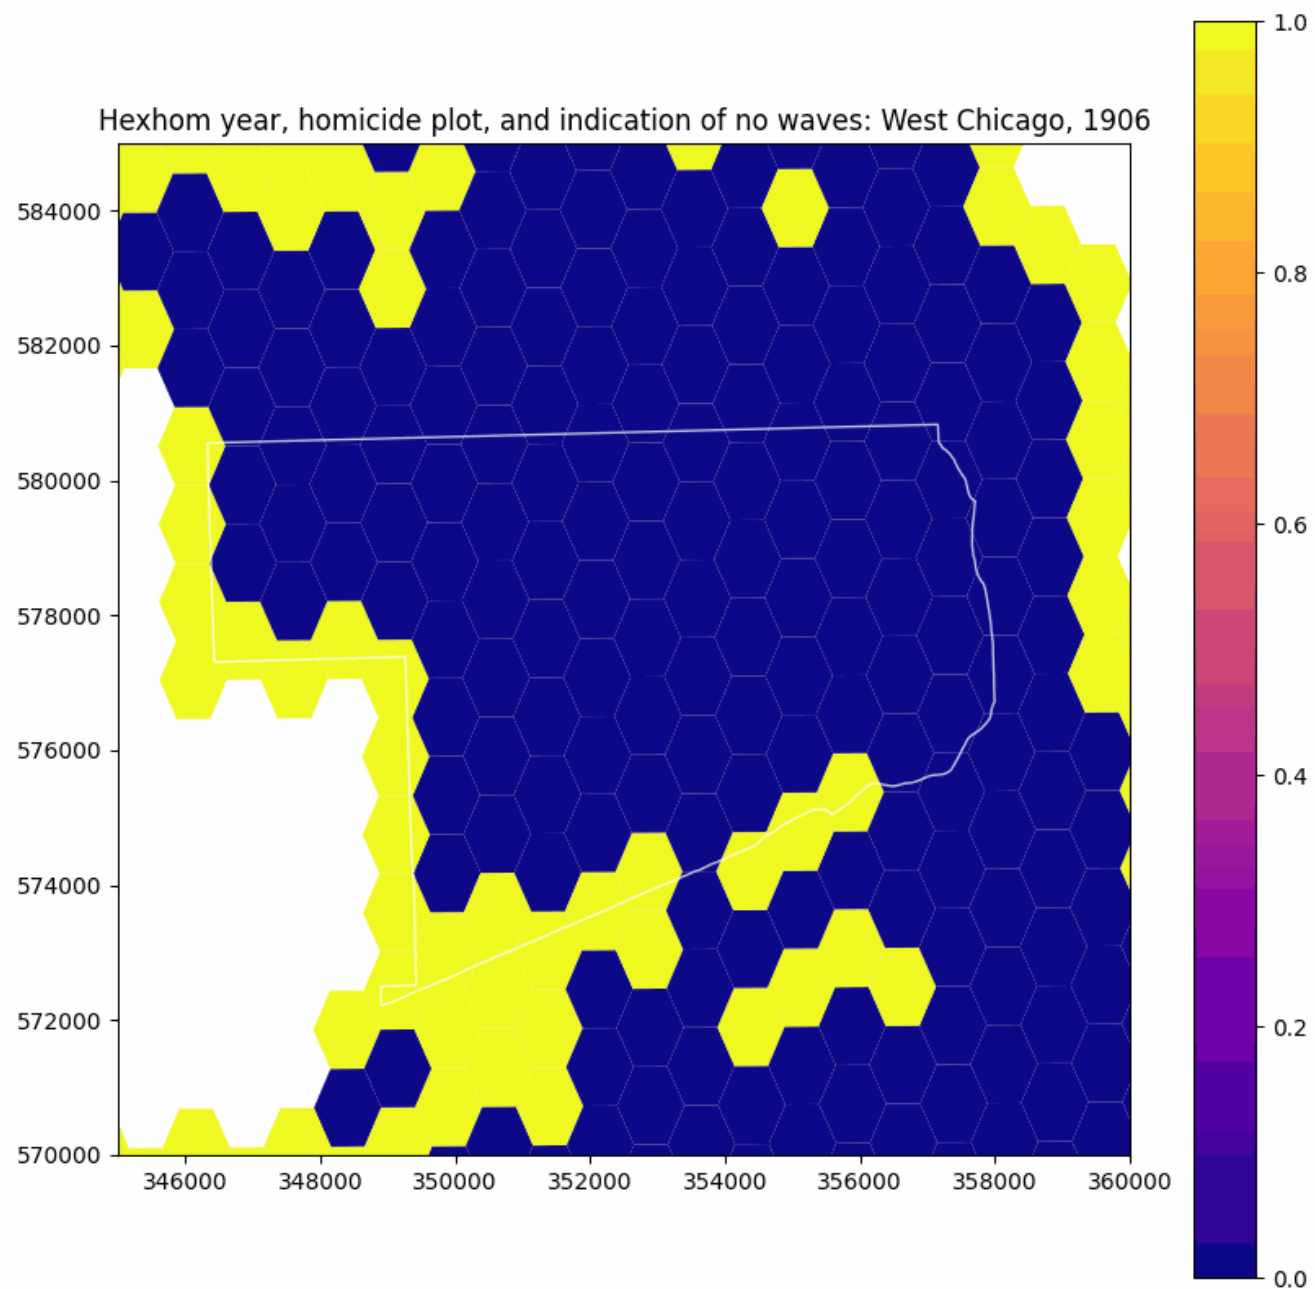

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

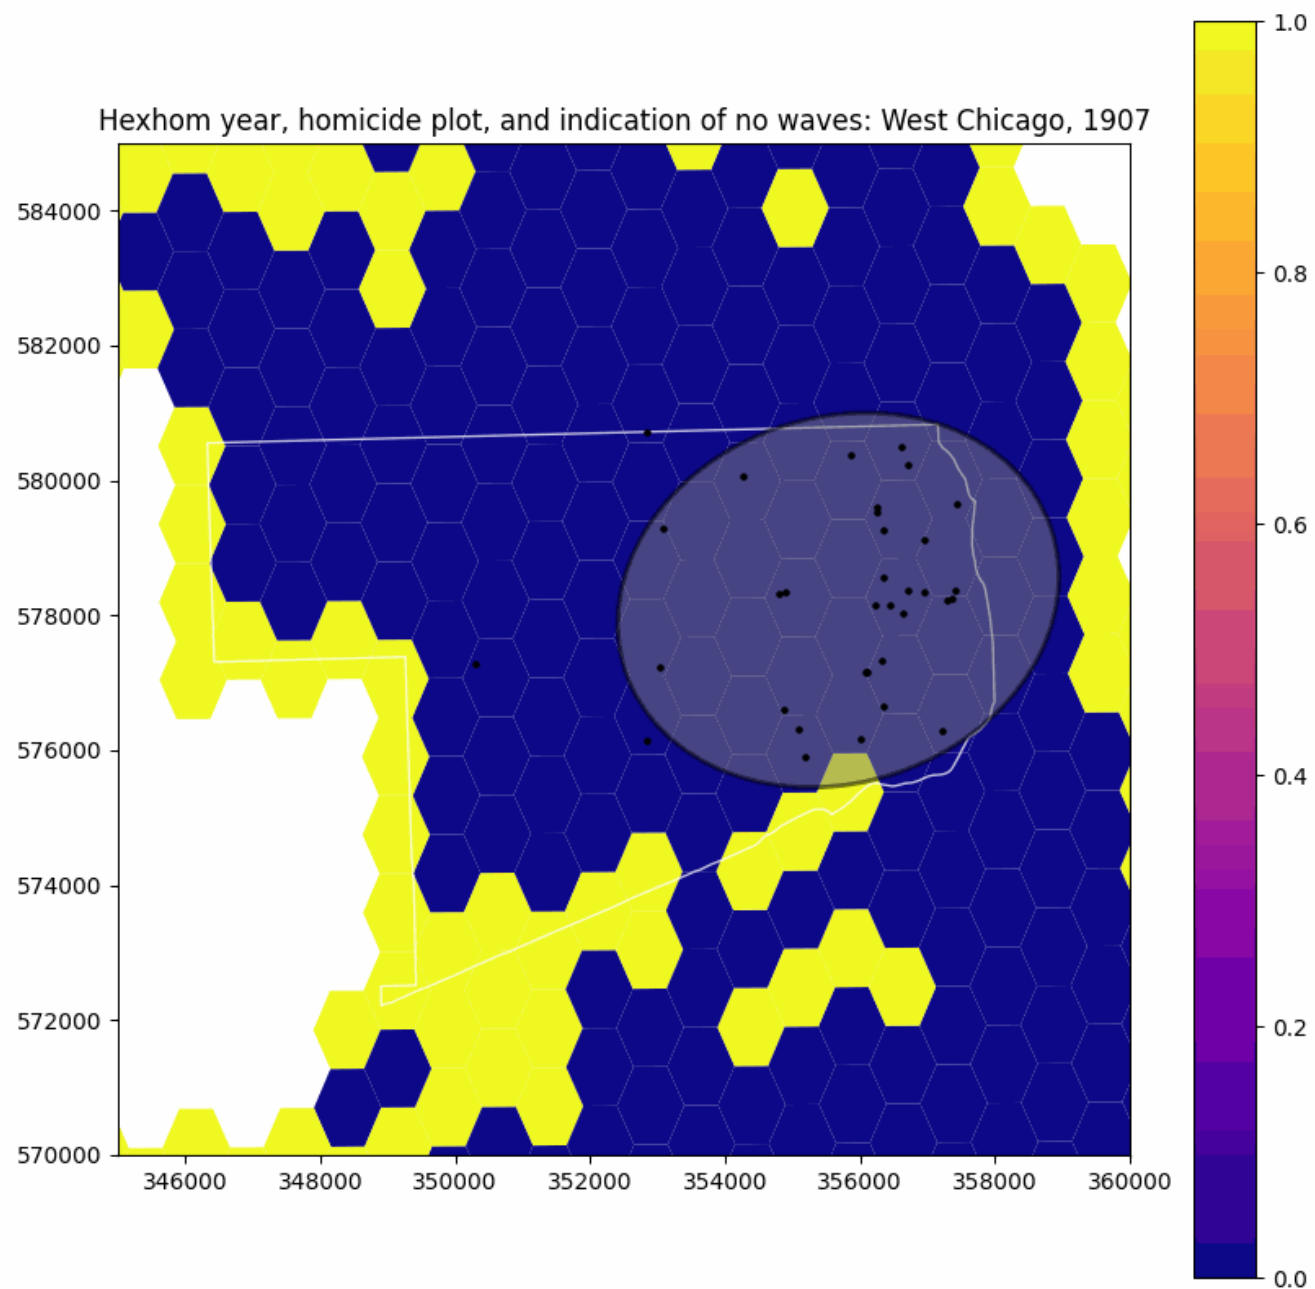

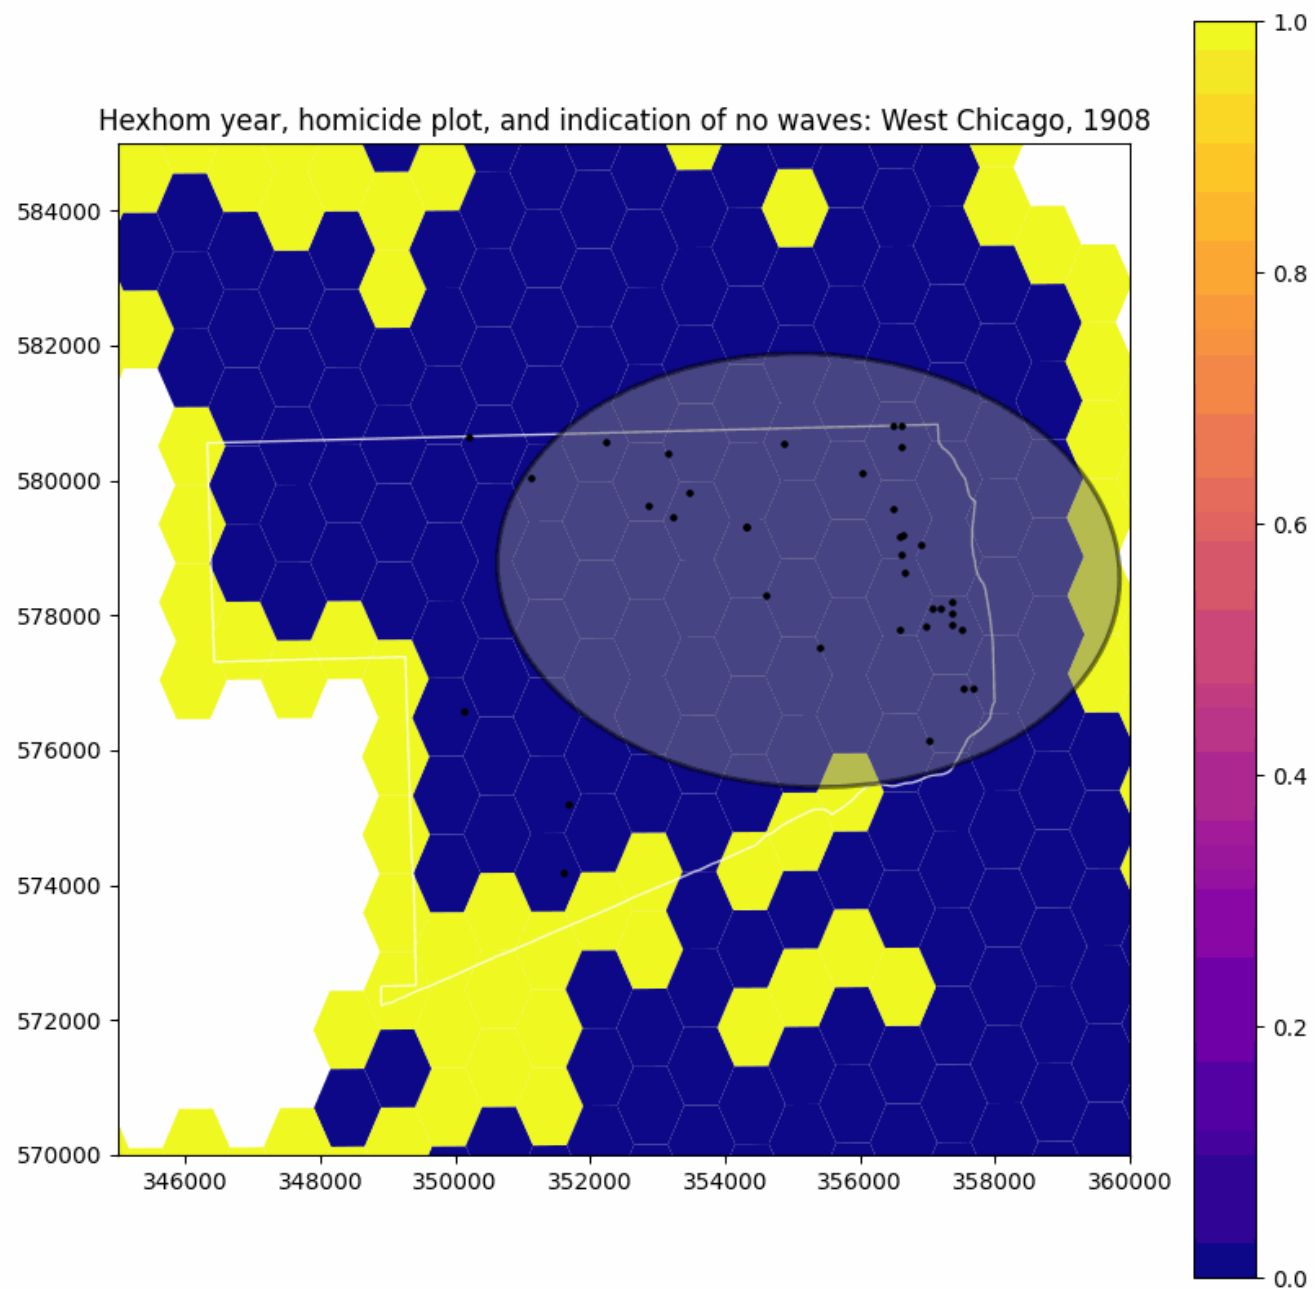

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

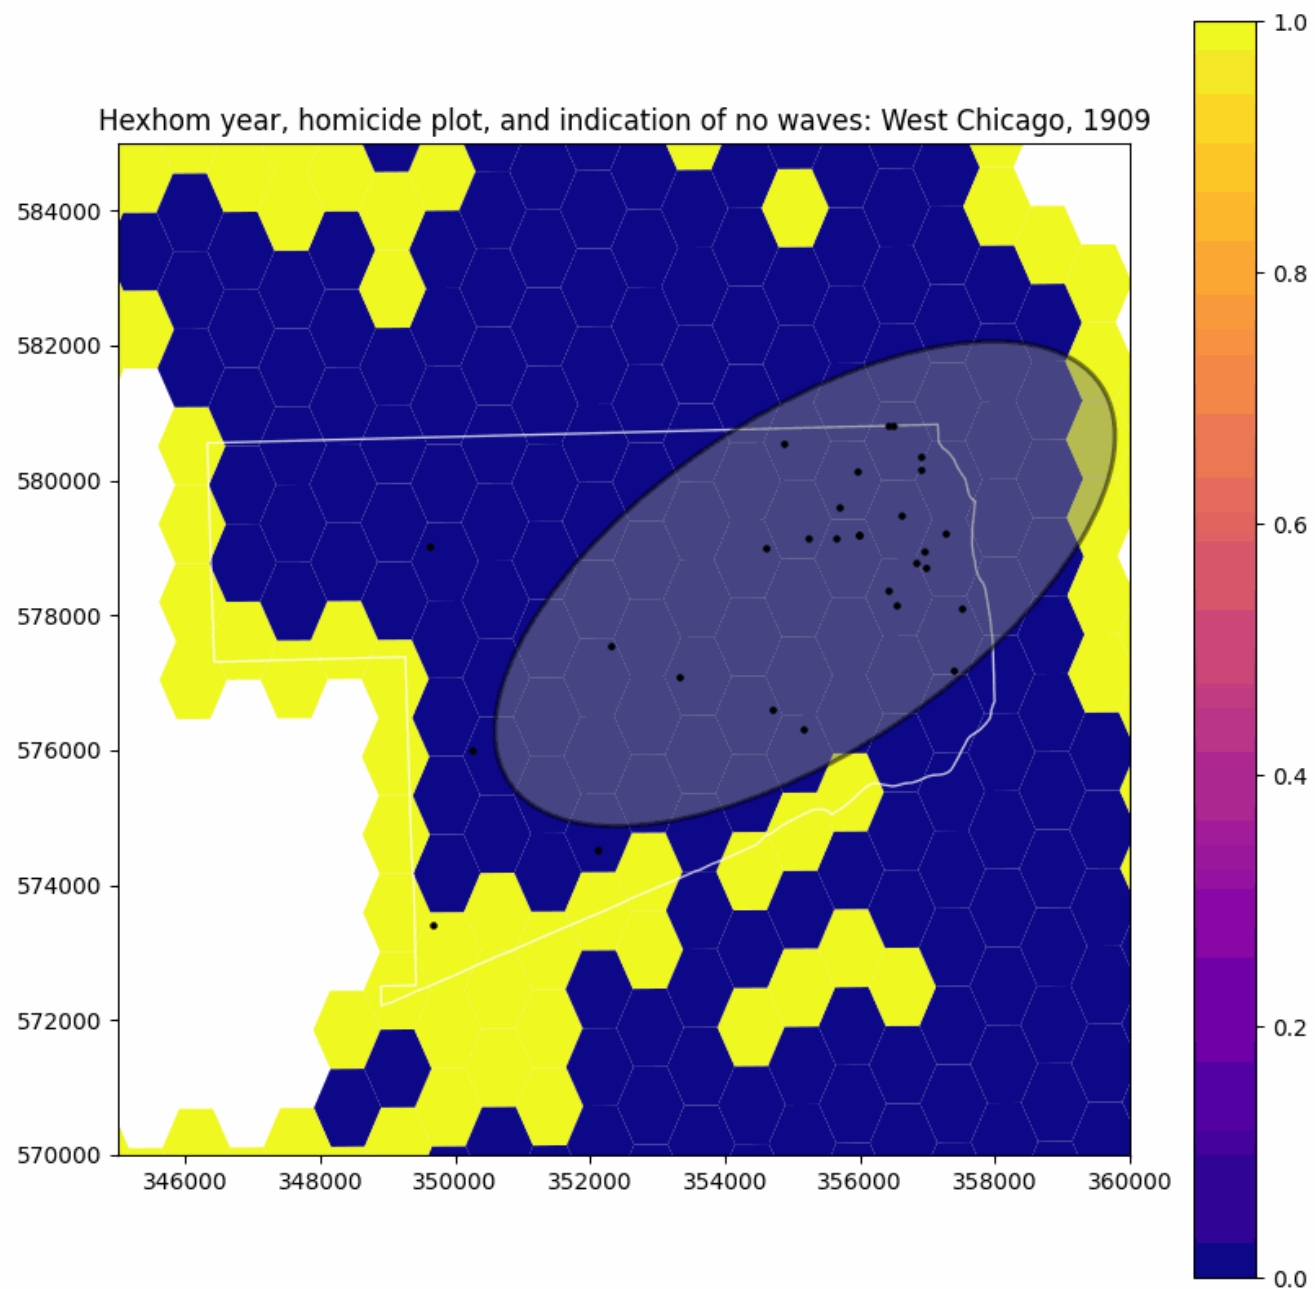

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

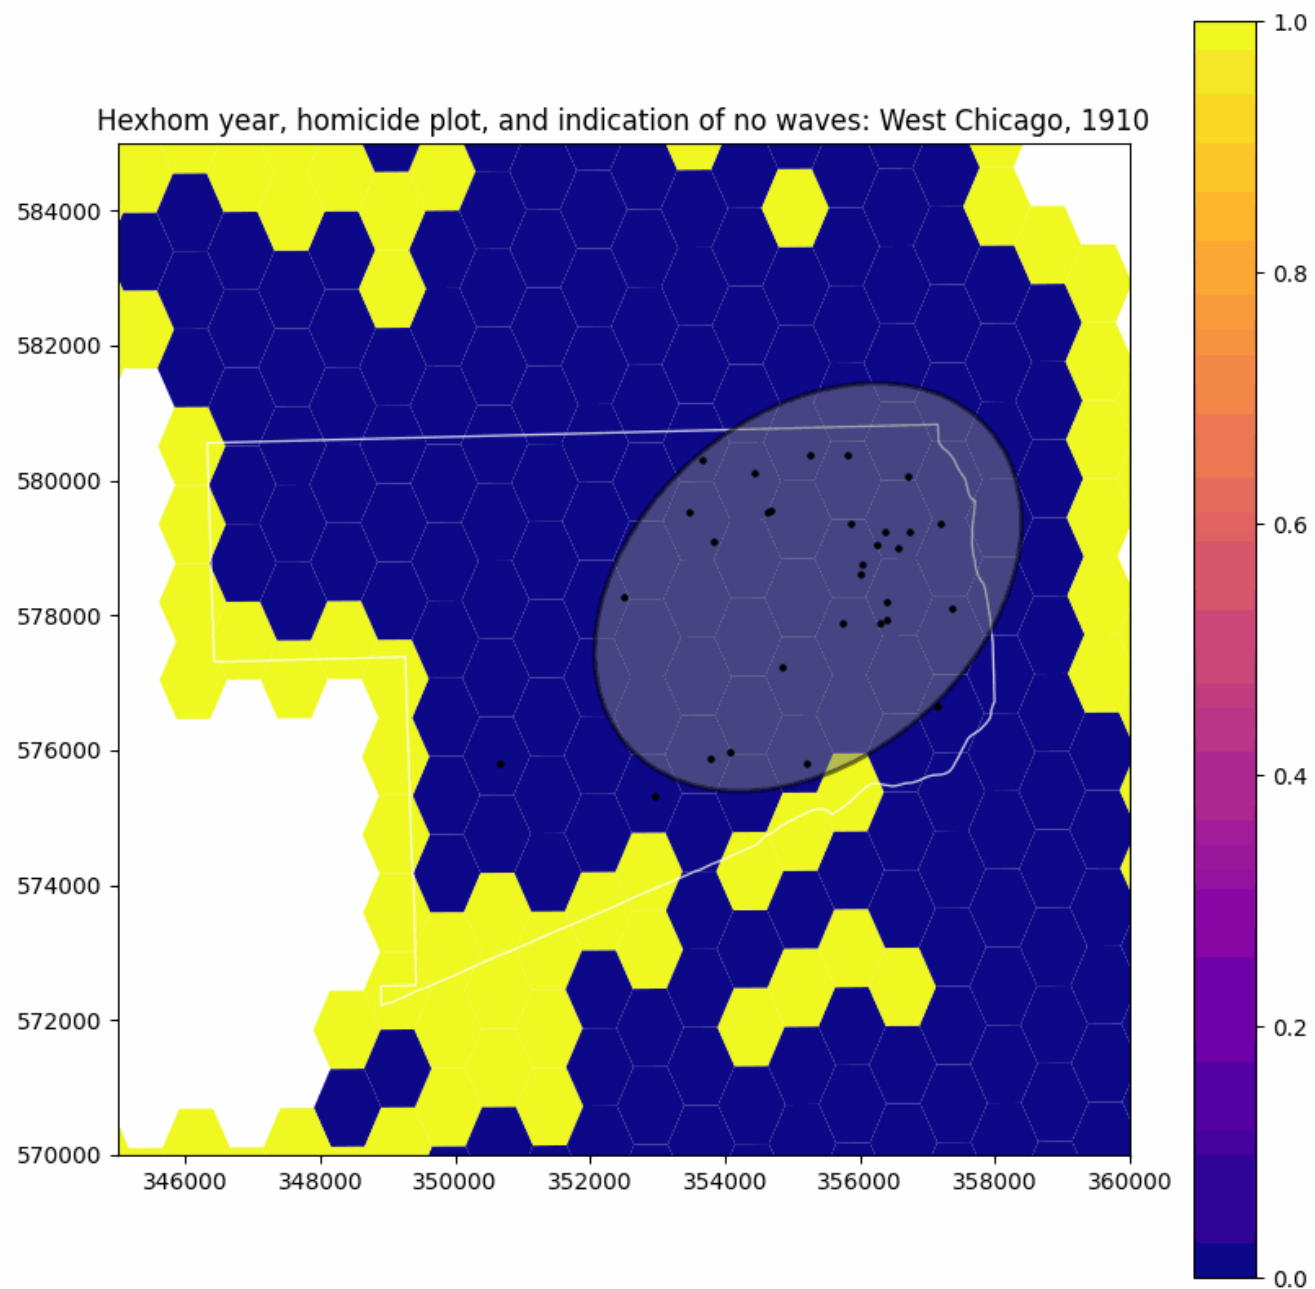

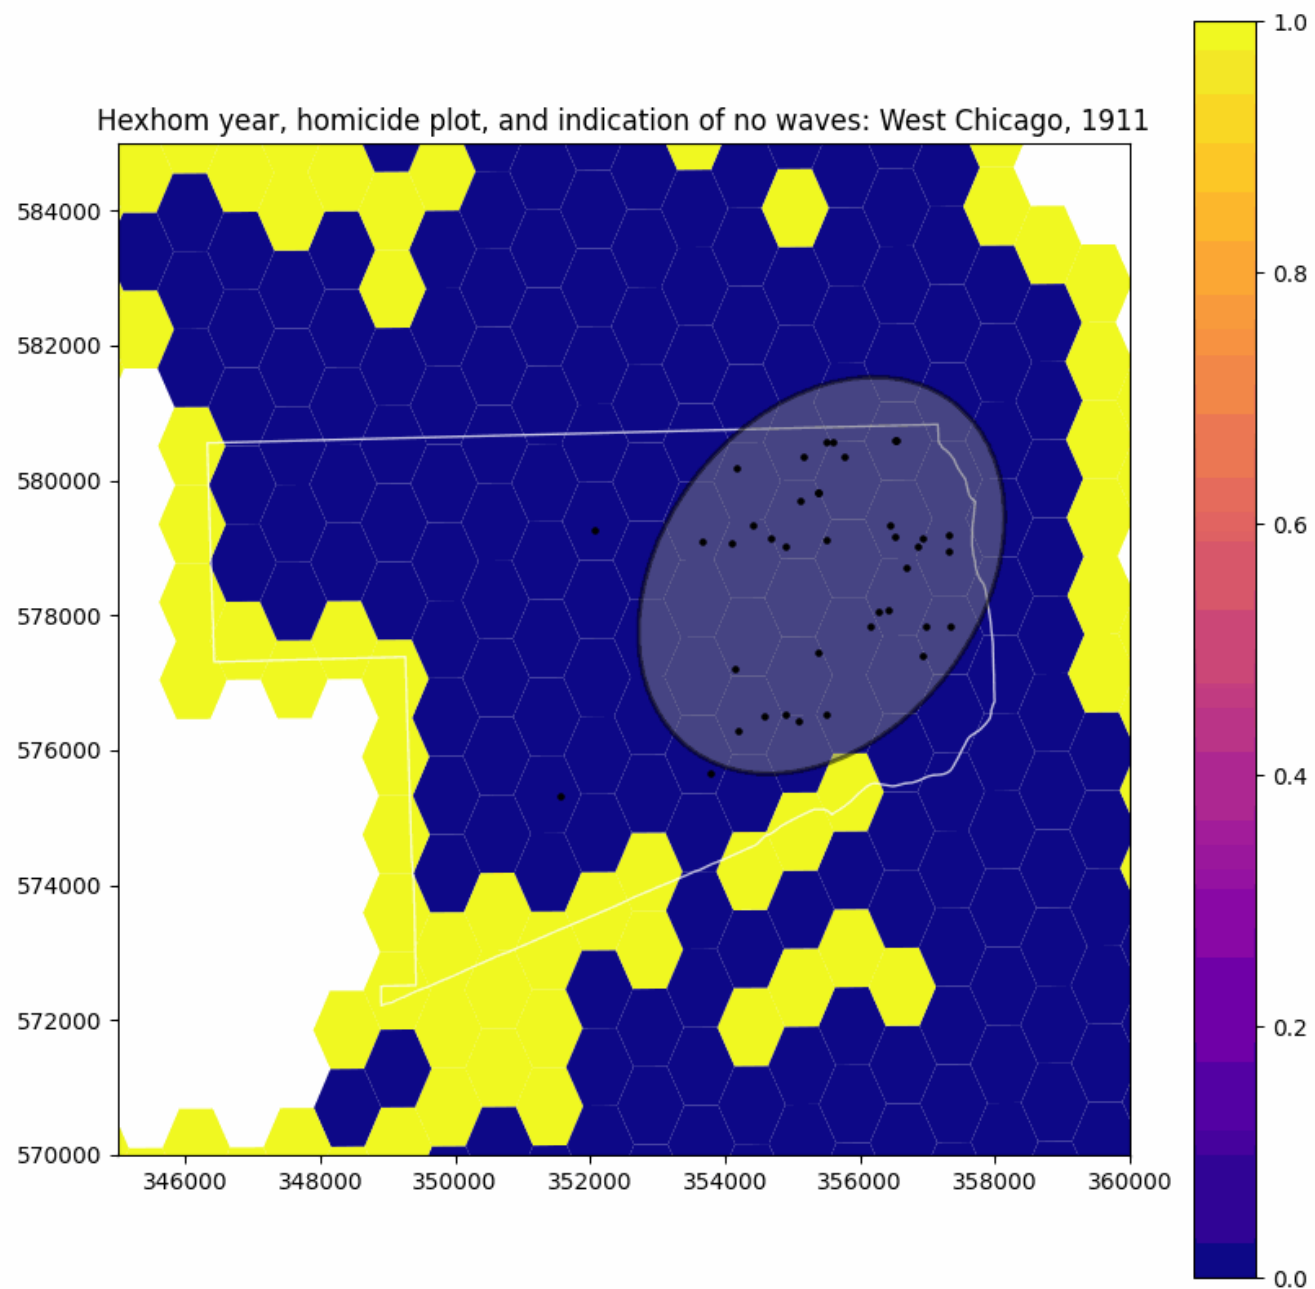

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

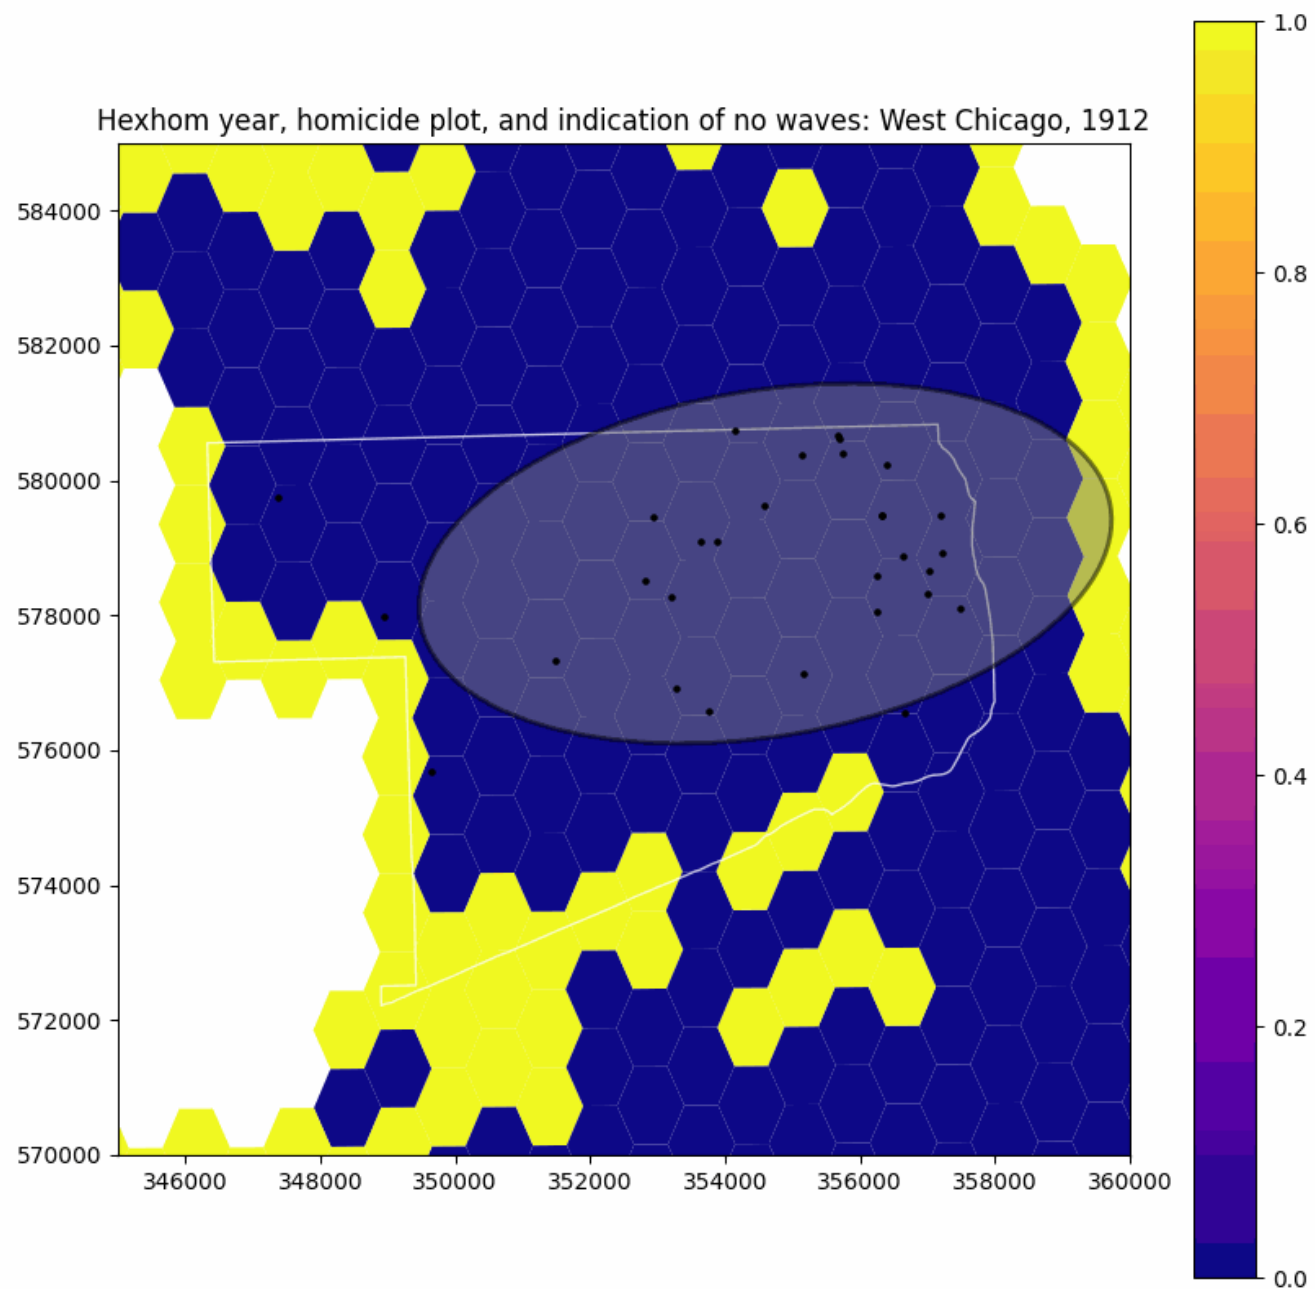

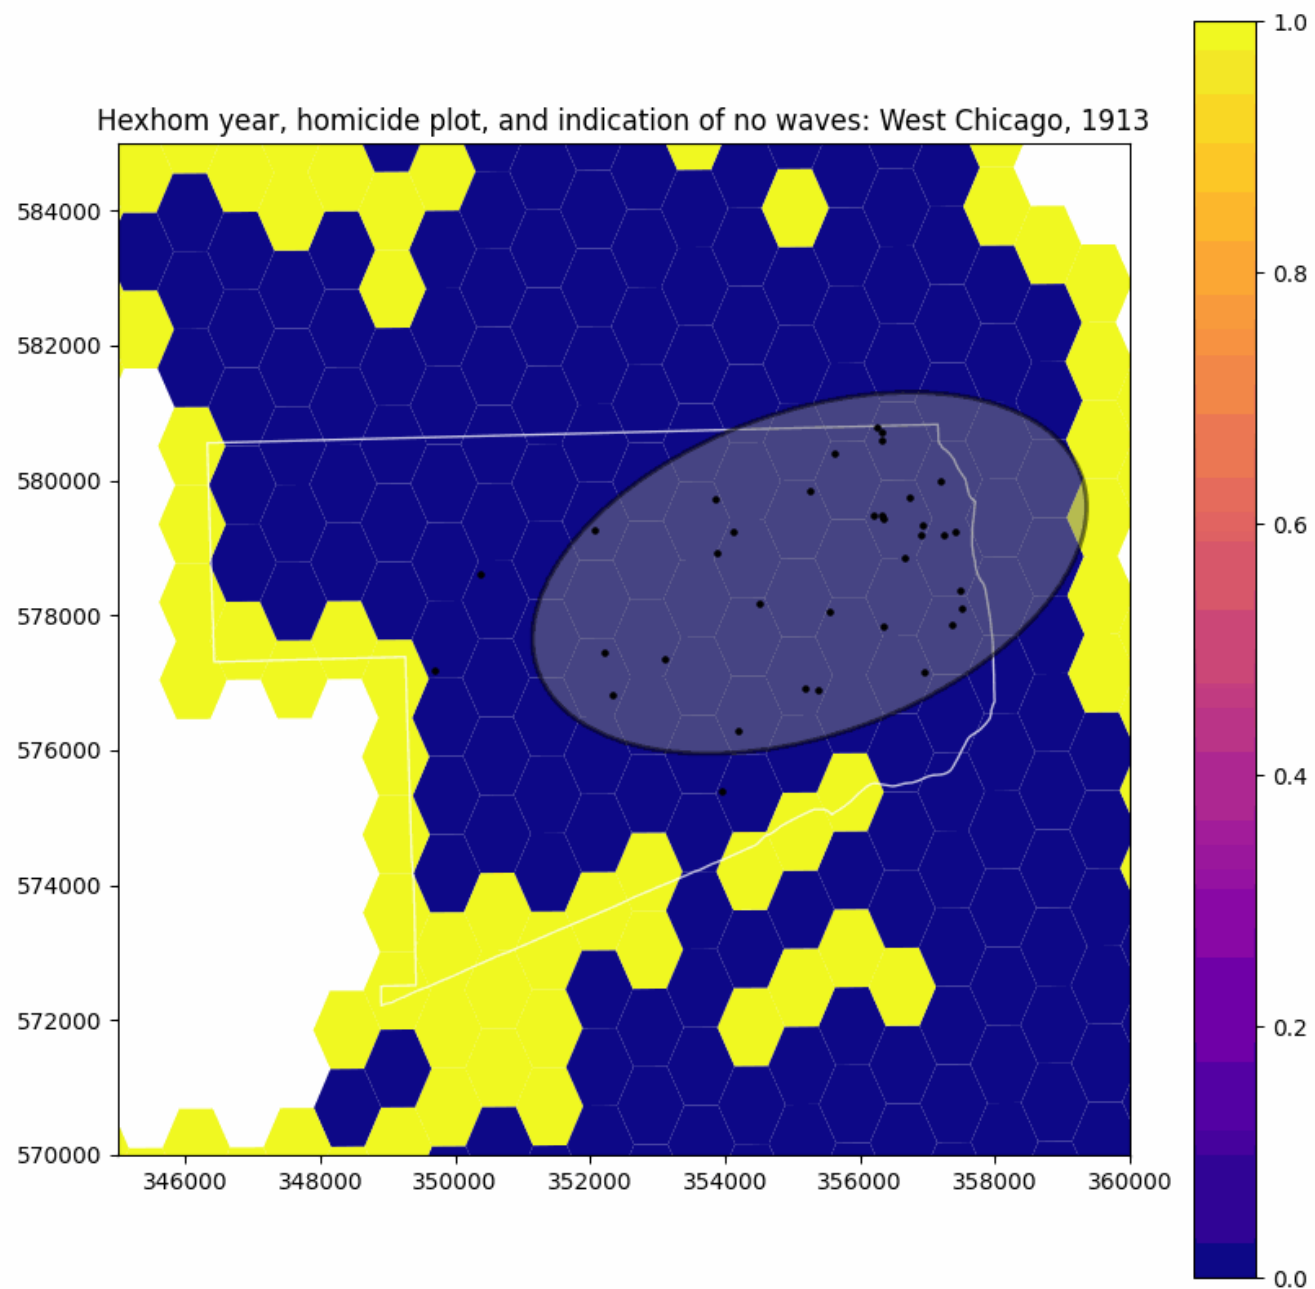

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

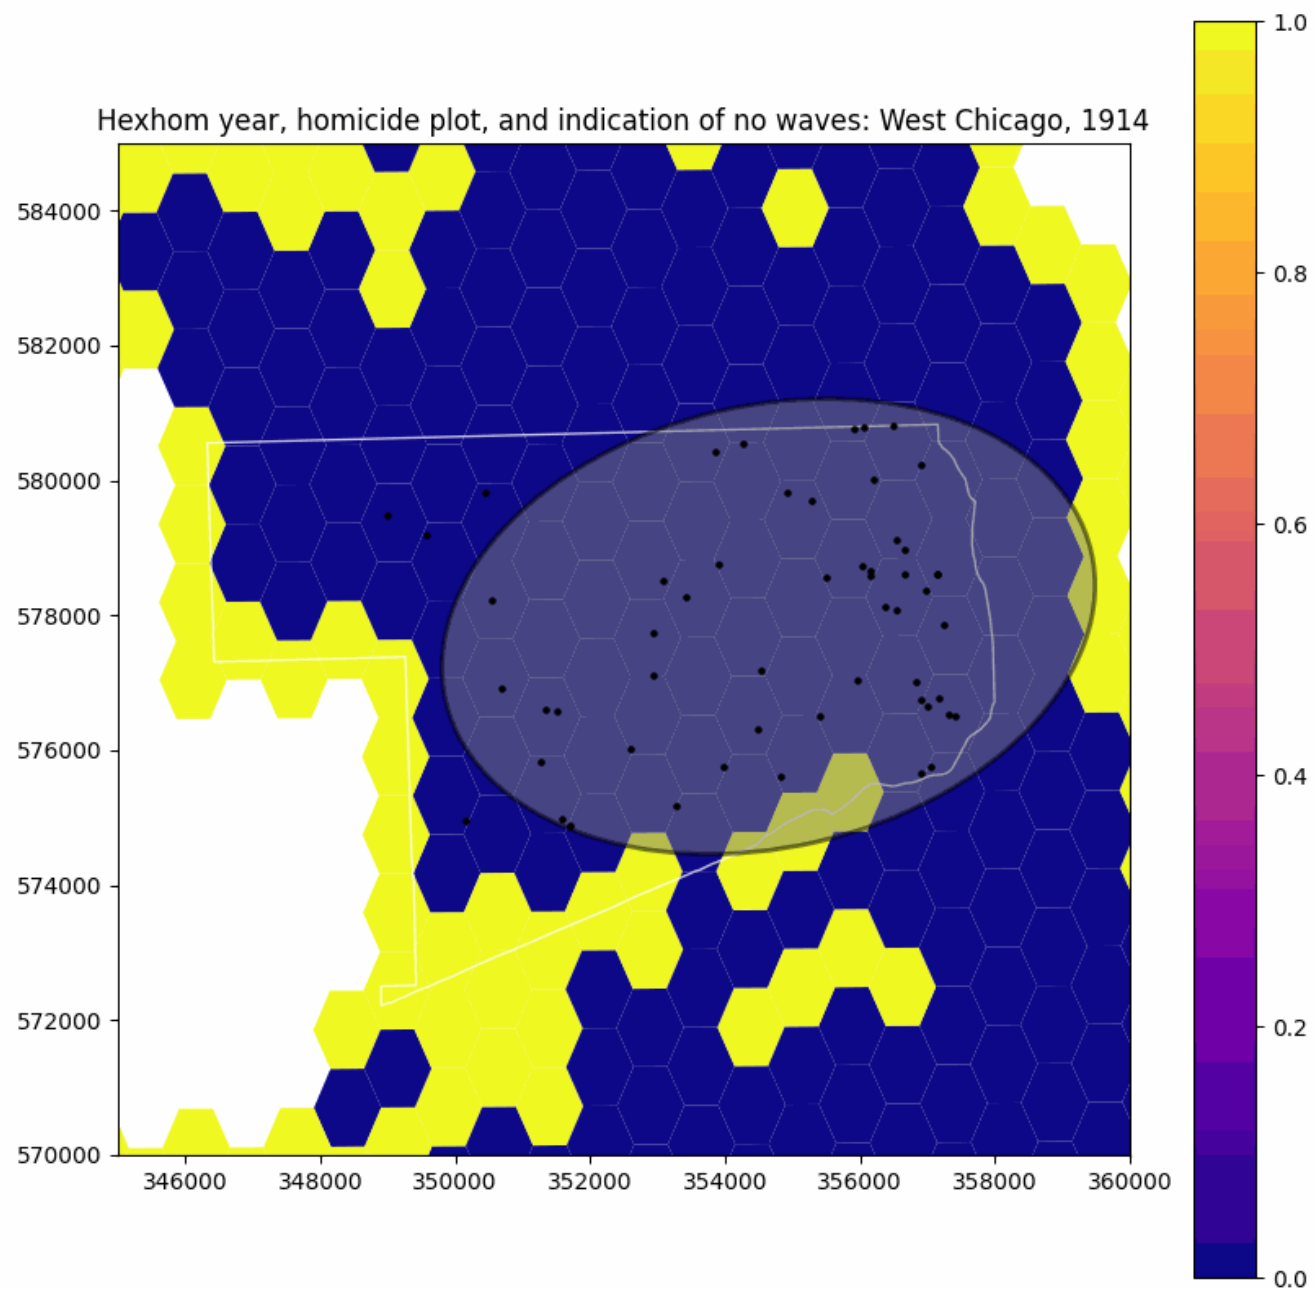

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

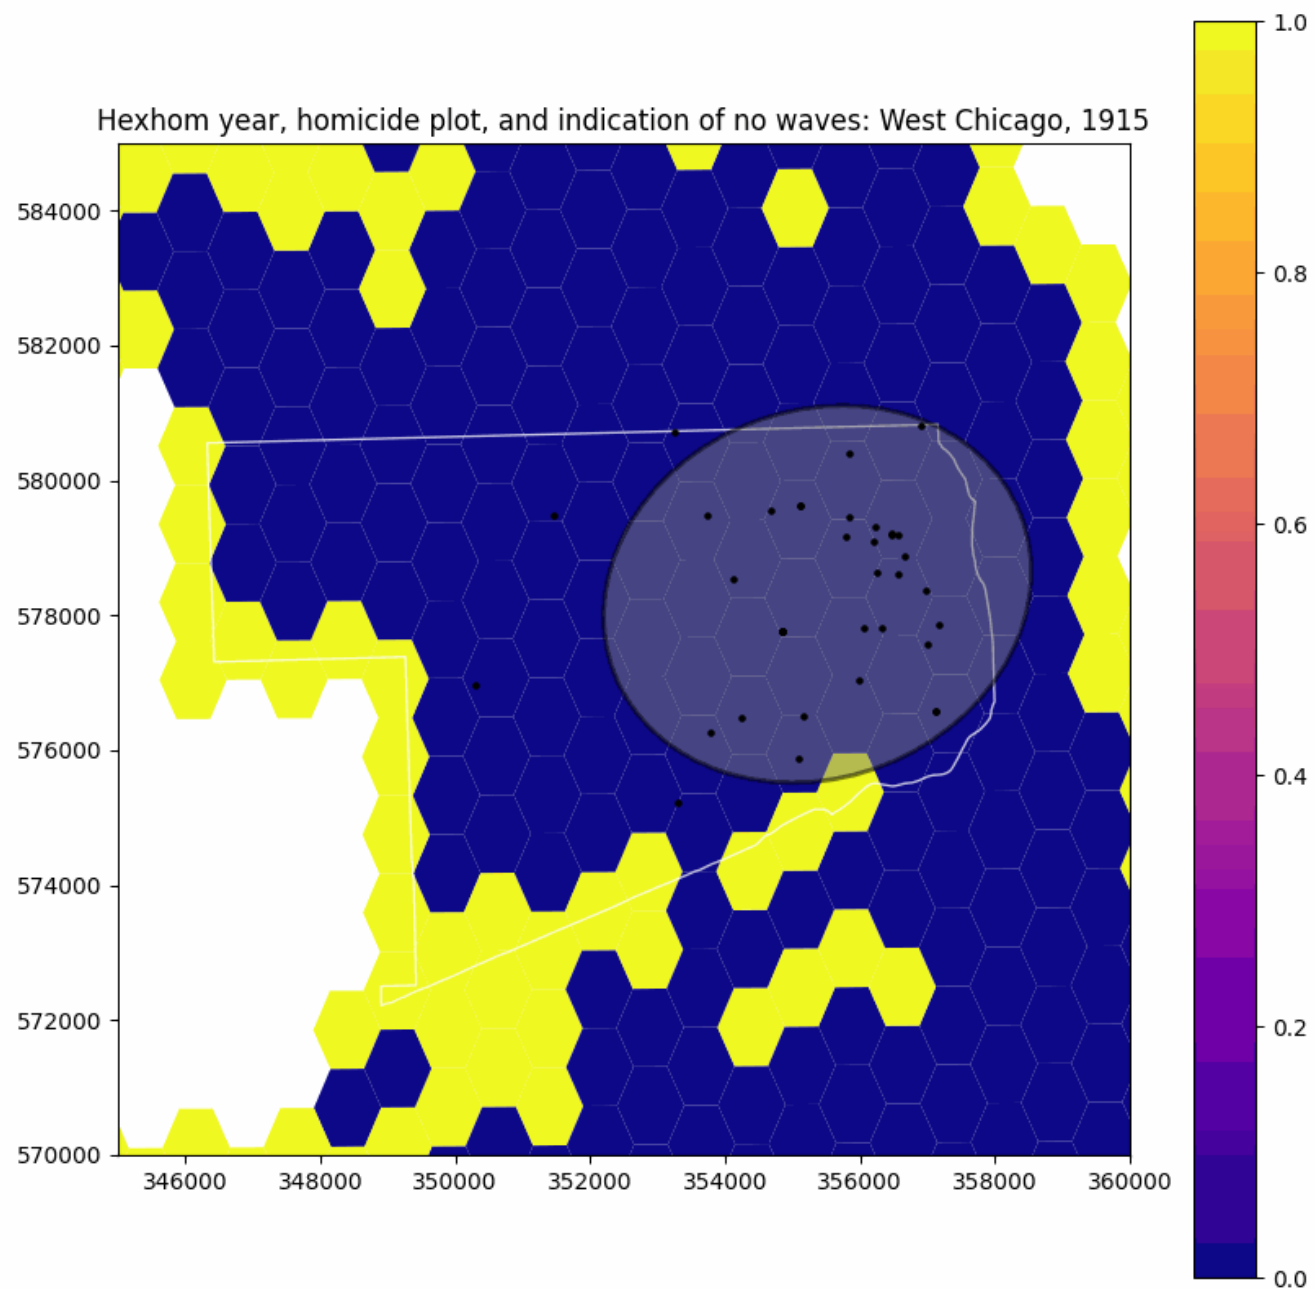

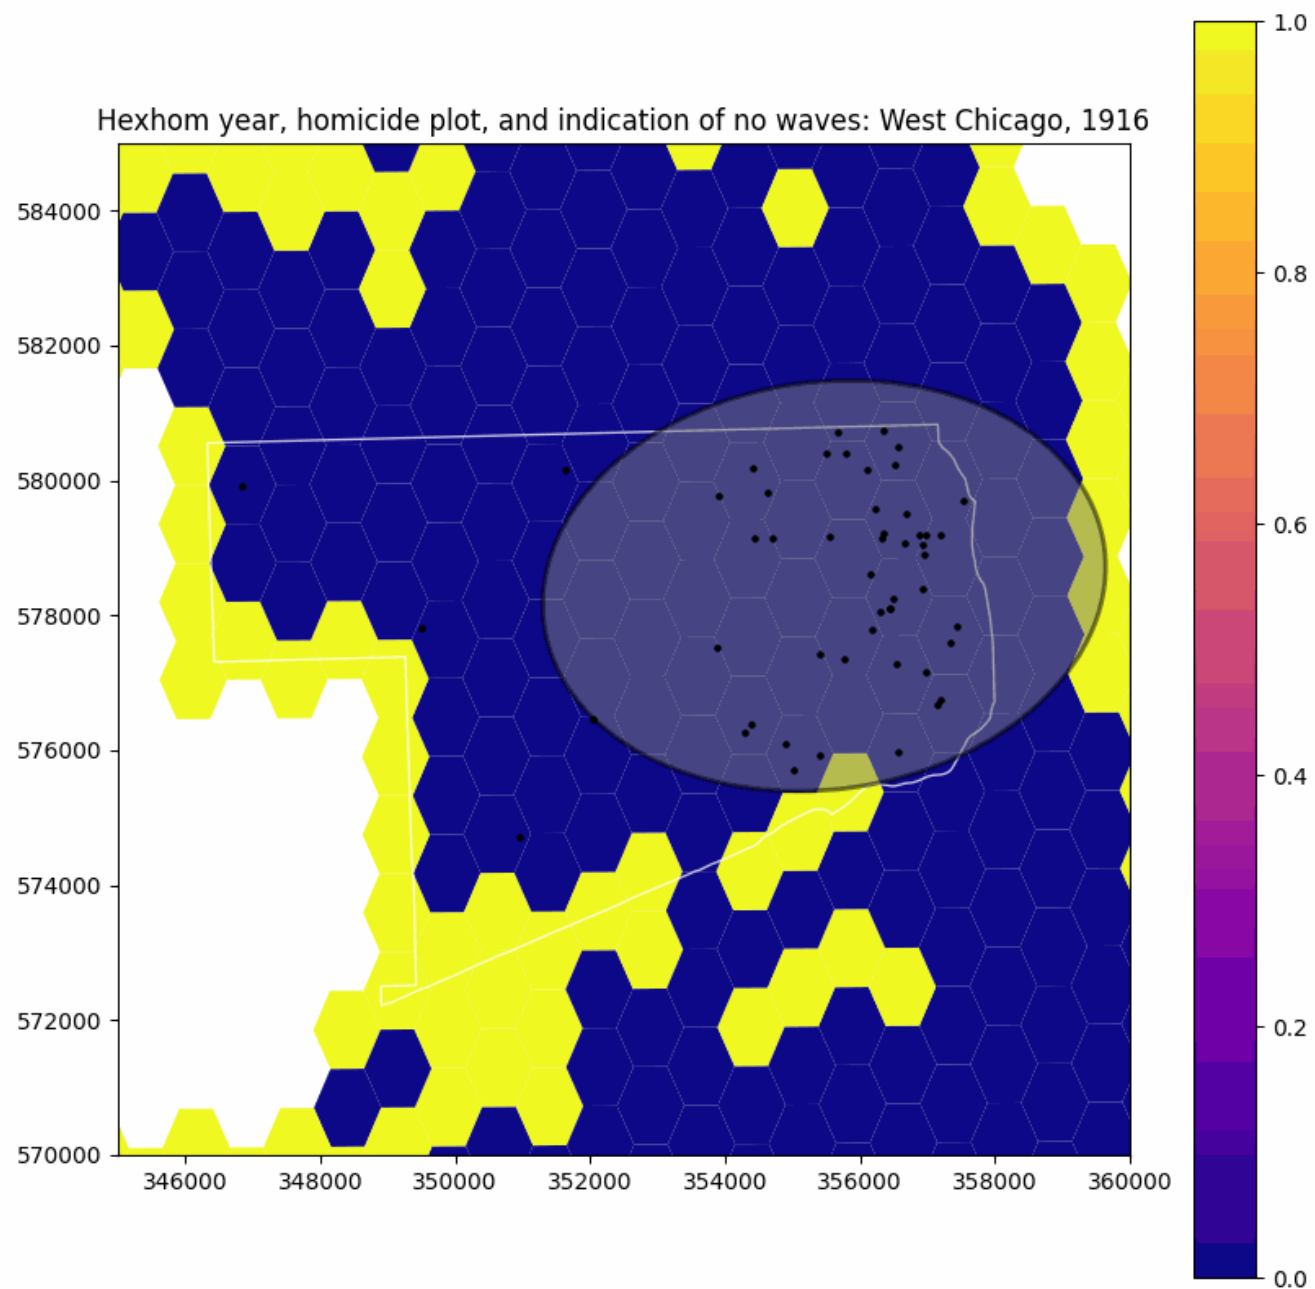

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

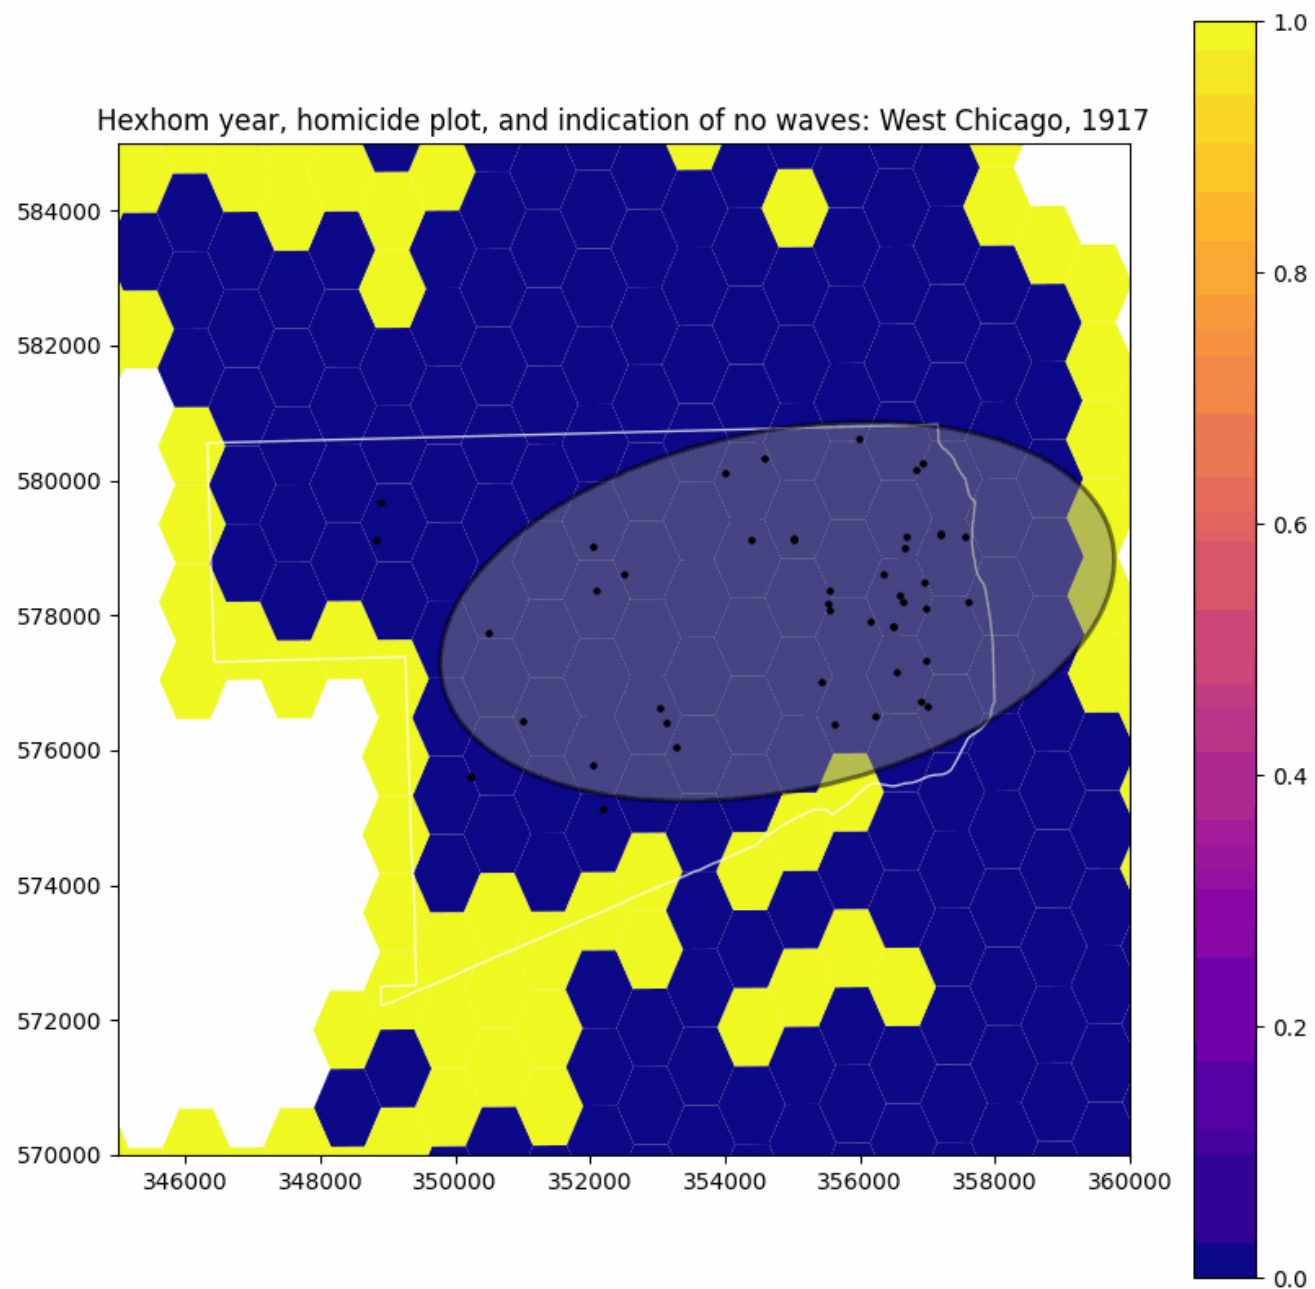

Note: Cumulative homicide counts start from the year 1874 and have an arbitrary ceiling of 200 homicides. There is no data for the years 1930-1940; in this graphic that gap is represented as if there were no homicides

